PLEASANT WORDS FOR MR. HILL The Vice President Considers Him a Very Able Man.

DAN LAMONT GOES TO NEW YORK

Mr. Cleveland Wan's to See the Factions in His Own State United, Ac-cording to the Rumors.

Washington, October 5.-(Special.)-Vice President Stevenson has returned to Washington for a few days before going to inois to participate in the campaign in that state. Since the adjournment of congress he has been at Sorrento, Me. To a representative of The Constitution

Mr. Stevenson said today: "I know very little about the political situation except what I have learned from the newspapers. hope and expect to see the democratic party triumphant everywhere and am pecially desirous that it should harmonize New York in support of the regular icket. I know nothing about the local differences in that state, but I think they should be laid aside for the present for the good of the party there and elsewhere. Mr. Hill is a very able man. Those who think otherwise do not know him. He has developed since he entered the senate, and has demonstrated his ability on more than ne occasion. He is the nominee of the party, and the party should win." Will Take an Active Part.

Mr. Stevenson was at the headquarters or some time. He was in quest of inforation and expressed gratification at the opefulness of the outlook. He expects to an active part in the campaign in lineis and possibly elsewhere. Mr. Stevenn has placed himself in the hands of the te committee, and will make addresses erever they desire. Mr. Stevenson's exsions regarding Senator Hill and the mpaign in New York are regarded as ificant of the friendly attitude of the inistration toward Mr. Hill's candicy. Of more importance, however, as leating the desire of the president to see factions in New York harmonize, is the tement made here today that Secretary nont has been requested by President leveland to confer with ex-Secretary hitney and others with a view of bringing out this end. Mr. Lamont went to New ork last night, it is understood, at the equest of President Cleveland, who tele-raphed from Gray Gables. Good Will for Hill.

said by those in political circles that resident, like Vice President Stevenis anxious that the democrats should in New York, and he wishes all his s to support Mr. Hill. This is the st important political information, that been received in Washington since ator Hill's nomination. With the suport of the administration on his side, Mr. it is beleved, will carry the state th but little difficulty. Harmony in the arty, it is also predicted, means the reprobably of a democrat from congressional districts that gave a ocratic majority in 1892.

nator Faulkner, chairman of the demcongressional campaign committee, eft for New York this morning to look er this part of the work. He refused state the object of his visit, but it is erally understood that he wishes to aid the work of harmonizing, with a view aiding the congressional candidates. Senator Hill, so his friends say here, posiively refuses to make terms to gain the administration's support, and that this ethod has made the administration seek

ate's Trial-The Wool Schedule to Come Up in Court, Etc. shington, October 5.—District Attorney y said today that Captain Howgate surely be brought to trial within days. It was not at all likely, he led, that the case would come up this nth. Mr. Birney has decided that there o necessity for arraigning Captain Howor for flxing ball as he had pleaded ty to all the indictments against him allty to all the indictments against him 1882, and as bail had been fixed at $36,000. aptain Howgate will be tried on an incoment which practically covers all his leged embezzlements from the government, amounting to $206,000.

Argument on the application for a write mandamus to compel Secretary Carlisle and Commissioner Miller to inspect the ugar product of the Miles Planting and lanufacturing Company, of Louisians, in der that the company may strengthen its adeavor to secure the sugar bounty for the current fiscal year, was concluded to be of the district supreme court. Desion was reserved.

The vexed questions arising in the wool rision was reserved.

The vexed questions arising in the wool schedule of the new tariff bill will be finally settled in the courts. This decision was reached by Secretary Carlisle today as the most satisfactory method of disposing of the matter. Until January 1st next, therefore, the position taken by the board of general appraisers at New York that the McKinley bill rates of duty obtained on wool, and that hair of animals is wool, will be followed by the treasury department in assessing the duty on this schedule. Importers can file their protests and protect themselves, awaiting the decision of the courts. If adverse to the government, the difference between the higher and lower rates of duty will, of course, be refunded.

IS IT A LOTTERY?

Ex-Governor Beveridge Says He Will Prove It Is Not.

Prove It Is Not.

Chicago, October 5.—Ex-Governor John T. Beveridge, of Illinois; F. D. Arnold and S. M. Biddison were prisoners in United States Commissioner Hayne's court this afternoon charged with violating the postal laws by practicing a lottery scheme through the mails. The men are the president, vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, which is alleged to be a mere imitation in its methods of the late Guarantee Investment Company, which lately had trouble with the authorities.

Mr. Biddison, however, denies that this is the case, and claims that his company contains no lottery elements. All the parties to the case gave ball and were released. Ex-Governor Beveridge was allowed to go on his own recognizance, Mr. Biddison gave ball in the sum of $5,000 and Mr. Arnold in the sum of $3,000.

The information against the company was filed by William G. D. Mercer, postoffice inspector for the state of Iowa. Mr. Mercer was the company's agent at Corning, Ia. As soon as he discovered that the company was, as he thought, breaking the postal laws, he resigned and brought, the charges, which resulted in today's arrests.

Ex-Governor Beveridge has been courting this investigation and will be gisd to have the opportunity to show that it is not justified. He does not fear an adverse decision. The company has a very large clientage, not only in Chicago, but also in other parts of the country.

THE COURT ASKED TO INTERPERE

With the Discharge of Men Because They Belong to a Union.

Philadelphia, Pa., October 5.—Attorney William T. Montague, of Washington, ap-peared in the United States circuit court this morning and asked Judge Dalias to interfere with the intended discharge, of Monday, of some of the employes of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Com-pany, which he stated was to be made because of their connection with a labor or ganization. He applied for a restraining order to prevent the discharge of the men until the matter could be disposed of by the

As Attorney Montague had not notified the counsel of the Reading receivers, Judge Dallas declined to take immediate action. The matter was postponed until Monday at 10 o'clock a. m., and in the meantime the receiver's counsel will be given notice of the proceedings.

The name of the labor organization and the number of men to be discharged were the number of men to be discharged were suppressed. The only reference to the organization by Attorney Montague was that the grand master workman lives in Illinois. There were several railroad employes with the lawyer, but their names were not given to the judge.

Mr. Montague did not file a petition which he had in his hands while addressing which he had in his hands while addressing the court, but took it away with him. as Mr. Wilkinson, the head of the Brotherhood of Railway. ### TO FIGHT THE TRUST.

An Immense Steel Rail Plant to Be Erected at Youngstown.

Pittsburg, Pa., October 5 .- Powerful competition to the steel rail trust is coming from the Mahoning valley. At Youngstown, O., an immense plant has been erected by the Ohio Steel Company at a cost of $1,500,operation day and night, with a carefully selected crew of experienced workmen. The plant will have a capacity of 1,000 tons of steel rails per day and by reason of the many modern improvements employed will do the work at a great saving in cost over do the work at a great saving in cost over present methods. The new development threatens destruction to the colossal pool which now virtually controls steel rails and billet production in the United States, and it seems certain that steel rails will be cheaper in a few months than ever before in America. The plant was estensionly constructed for the manufacture of steel billets to supply the mills in the Mahoning valley, who heretofore have purchased this product from Pittsburg manufacturers. The product from Pittsburg manufacturers. The mills are so constructed, however, that with interchangeable rolls, which will be em-ployed, billets or rails may be turned out at the will of the operators. The start in January will be on billets. Subsequently steel rails will be the main product of the plant, which will give employment to 1,000

SHOT ONE OF THE ROBBERS Who Dynamited the Bank Safe at Bloomfield, Ind.

Bloomfield, Ind., October 5.—The robbers who dynamited the Bloomfield bank sale nearly $5,000 in cash, were run down by a posse and bloodhounds near this place last night. A desperate fight was kept up and the robbers finally retreated. There were three of them, one of whom was shot down. He was taken to Switz City, four miles from here, and gave the name of Charles Rivers, of Indianapolis, Rivers had $1,100 of the stolen money on his person. He is badly wounded and will die. The other two are still at large.

KILLED THE MINISTER Who Was Trying to Take a Letter by

Force. Louisville, Ky., October 5 .- Rev. John W. Welker was knocked down and killed near Corydon, Ind., yesterday by David Wheat. The latter had received a note warning him to leave the country on peril of being whitecapped. He was visited by masked men last Sunday night, but drove them away with a few shots. Yesterday Mr. Welker and his son Alva went to see Wheat and ordered him to give them the warning note. Upon his refusal a fight followed and in the melee Wheat knocked the minister down with a billet of wood and killed him.

THROUGH A BRIDGE.

A Train Takes a Plunge and Passengers Drop in the Water.

Anniston, Ala., October 5 .- (Special.)-The passenger coach, mail and baggage car and two coal cars of a mixed train on the Birmingham and Atlantic road went through the bridge over the Coosa river this afternoon The train was en route from Pell City to Talladega and had as passengers a white woman and her children and a negro. The negro was killed and the woman and children were, with difficulty, rescued from drowning. A number of people were in jured. Among them were the conductor fireman, mail clerk and baggageman, but none were dangerously hurt.

Crisp to Speak in Ohio. Columbus, O., October 5.—The state demo-cratic executive committee states that Speaker Crisp, Senator Voorhees and ex-

Speaker Clambell will speak at Mansfield on Monday, October 15th. Messrs. Crisp and Voorhees will make a number of speeches in the state. The republican state executive committee announces that Gov-ernor McKiniey will speak at Louisville, Ky., Thursday, October 18th, and at Nash-ville, Tenn., October 19th.

Columbus, O., October 5.—The grand jury today returned indictments against the county commissioners, charging malfcas-ance on four counts. The indictments are the result of examinations of the proceedthe result of examinations of the proceedings of the board made by a committee appointed by the court last summer, which facts pointed to bribery to say the least. The members of the board are L. M. Eiggert and Thomas D. Cassidy, democrats, and Joseph A. McDonald, republican.

Rosebery's Colt Won. London, October 5.—This was the opening day of the Kempton Park autumn meeting. The event of the day was the race for the Imperial (Kempton Park Great Breeder's stakes of 5,000 sovereigns, one mile). The race was won by Lord Rosebery's bay colt, Eir Visto, with Mr. Daniel Cooper's bay filly, Fleet, in the second place, and Mr. A. M. Cox's bay or brown filly, Galeottia, third.

JUDGE GAYNOR DECLINES TO RUN

Now Senstor Hill Lets It Be Known That He Will Make the Race-Lamont Explains His Presence.

New York, October 5 .- The conference of the various anti-Tammany associations was held this afternoon in the United Charities building. There were present committees from the O'Brien anti-Tammany democracy; the Grace new state democracy; the Steckler independent county democracy; the Confederated Good Government Clubs; the Republican Organization Club, and the German-American Reform Union. The committee of seventy this afternoon had prepared a regular county ticket, which was unanimously adopted by the committee. It was as follows: Mayor, Colonel William L. Strong; recorder, John W. Goff; president of the board of aldermen, John Jerolomen; sheriff, Otto Kempuer; judge of the superior court, Henry R. Beekman; coroners, Dr. William O'Meagher and Dr. W. E. Hoeber.

There were thirty delegates present from each of the anti-Tammany associations, and each man was a prominent member of the association he represented.

The session lasted over three hours, and when it came to a close nothing definite had been done. The Grace democracy boked the committee of seventy's ticket entire-ly, refusing to have anything to do with a ticket which was headed by a republican as candidate for mayor. The German-American Union, through its spokesman, Theodore Sutro, said that they accepted the nom. ination of Mr. Goff for recorder, but that they could not accept the rest of the ticket until they had consumed with the organi-

JUDGE GAYNOR DECLINES The Nomination as Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Brooklyn, N. Y., October 5.-William J. Gaynor this evening wrote a letter to the Hon. J. W. Hinckley, chairman of the democratic state committee, declining the nomination conferred upon him by the democratic party to run on their ticket for judge of the court of appeals. In his letter Judge Gaynor says:

"The reasons which I publicly assigned for not wishing to become the nominee for governor preclude me from accepting any place on the ticket, as may be seen by recurring to them, and I am, therefore, con strained to decline the nomination for judge of the court of appeals as grateful as I feel for it, and as much as I should like to hold a place of so much usefulness. "If I thought that the withdrawal of my name would injure Senator Hill's canvass I would try to see some way to allow it to remain, for his recent development in the national senate places him with the foremost public men of his day. Between him and his opponent he should, and I trust will, prevail.'

WRECKS ON THE KEYS.

Loss of Life by the Hurrican of Last Week. Key West, Fla., October 5.-Nearly every day fresh information reaches here from the keys surrounding this place relative to the loss of life in the recent hurricane. Mr. Pinder, who resides on East Maticum-ble key, was here today. He says that on the morning of September 29th two sailors the morning of September 29th two sailors drifted ashore with life preservers from the British bark, Brandon, of Quebec, from Ship island, Pascagoula, for Liverpool, with a cargo of timber, which ran ashore on Crocus reef, at 10 o'clock, on the night of September 26th, and after pounding over the reef, got into the channel and capsized. Another of the crew came ashore the same night. There were seventeen in all on board, and these are the only three that have been heard of along the shore. The captain, William Redford, had three that have been heard of along the shofe. The captain, William Redford, had one leg broken by a wave as soon as the ship had struck the reet, and a Norwegian sailor had both legs crushed—a wave knocking him down by the pumps and throwing a piece of timber across both legs, and while two of his shipmates were trying to relieve him another wave lifted the timber so they could draw him out. They then fastened a life preserver on him. These survivors think that he, the

captain, mate, steward and another of the crew were drowned as they were all in the cabin when the ship turned bottom upwards. The shore is littered with pieces of her cabin, forecaste and houses, and three of her boats, all smashed to pieces. Some few pieces of hewn timber from her deck

few pieces of hewn timber from her deck are on shore. The names of the survivors of the Brittzh bark, Brandon, are John T. Warren, Woolwich, England; William Spofforth and Lennari Lax, Finland, Russia. The Norwegian ship, Theora, was lost off Turtle harbor, but fortunately all hands were saved. W. J. H. Taylor, the English, Swellish and French vice consul, provided for the crews and looked in every manner after their comfort.

On September 26th Messrs, Sam Williams and Leonard Lowe discovered the body of a drowned man on the outside of Tavanear key. After informing some neighbors of the circumstances they repaired to a place it is likely that the number of lives lost will never be known as communication with the keys is difficult.

Bamage to Banana Crop. New York, October 5.-Incoming vessels continue to bring details of the destruction wrought by the great cyclone which origi-nated in the West Indies, laying waste wast tracts of land and playing havoc with vest tracts or land and playing havor with everything affoat. The steamer Tyrian ar-rived last night from Gibara, whither she had gone for a cargo of bananas. None were to be had, however. The plantations for miles in the eastern end of Cuba had been devastated. About Banes 500,000 bunches of the fruit, it was estimated, had been ruined. The vessel managed to secure a small cargo of sugar and tobacco.

The steamer Panama, from Havana.
September 30th, brought further particulars of the work of the cyclone at Sagua-la Grande. Though the town is twenty miles from the ocean, the high tides caused the from the ocean, the high tides caused the river Sagua to rise so high that a third of the town's population were driven from their homes, while many sought safety on the slanting tops of their houses. The flood lasted forty-eight hours. Rain poured in torrents for three days, having com-menced September 28th. From such reports as were at hand when the Panams sailed it was believed that the loss of life in Cuba would reach as high as 200, while the property damaged is estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

Floods in Cuba. Havana, October 5.-Rain has been falling heavily for the past two days through-out the island of Cuba and the rivers have overflowed their banks in the Vuelta Abajo district. Railway communication has been suspended. Pinar del Rio and San Cristobal, in the province of Pinar del Rio, are under water, as is also Guara, in the province of Havana.

BENEATH THE WALLS.

Six Lives Lost at a Fire in Detroit Yesterday.

Detroit, Mich., October 5 .- Fire at 7:45 o'clock this morning completely gutted Keenan & Jahn's furniture store at Nos. 213, 215 and 217 Woodward avenue, entailing a loss of $60,000 on stock and $25,000 on the building. The fire started in the boiler room and shot up the freight elevator shaft, gaining such a headway that the firemen were unable to save any portion of the building or contents.

The floors of the building fell in at 9:15 o'clock and the front and rear walls immediately collapsed. The men of engine company No. 9, chemical No. 1 and truck No. 2 were working in the windows and doors on the ground floor in front. In the rear the men of engine company No. 8 were playing on the fire from a bridge working close to the rear walls and when they collapsed they were completely imbedded in the debris. Every man in the company, except the captain, was more or less injured and Frederick A. Bussey, a spectator, who was standing beneath the bridge, was killed. The work of rescue was immediately begun and in fifteen minutes the men who had been working in the alley were taken out. The firemen working on the front of the building did not fare so well, however. When the first crack of the falling floors was heard, the men started to run, but the walls came down on them so swiftly that all were buried under tons of brick and mortar. The walls did not fall outside of the middle of the sidewalk and the last brick had scarcely touched the walk before the work of rescue in front began. The corrected list of killed and injured is as follaws:

Injured. Fred Draheim, engine No. 8, badly injured; E. E. Stevens, chemical No. 1, badly injured; Michael C. Gray, badly hurt about head and body; Lieutenant Patrick

O'Rourke, engine No. 8, badly injured; F. E. Stocks, pipeman, engine No. 8; Bartholomew Cronin, pipeman, engine No. 8; John B. Newell, truck No. 2; Leslie E. McElmurray, fireman; Thomas Gurry, fireman; Henry E. Herrig, spectator. None of the last six named are badly injured. The building was a five-story brick with twelve-inch filled walls, and it is said that it had been condemned as being unsafe. The insurance on the building foots up

Wimberly. Counsel for the defense argued that even amitting what the prosecution had said against Mills to be true, he was not guilty of murder in the first degree. His counsel averred that he was like an animal without reason well developed and that he did not have the power to formulate and premeditate a purpose. He declared that the prisoner's partial idlocy dated from his birth and that he was an unfortunate instrument of designing people and no more instrument of designing people and no more responsible than a dumb brute. At 6 o'clock the jury took the case.

San Francisco, Cal., October 5.—One of the members of the court of inquiry investigating the conduct of the military at Sacramento during the railway strike, states that it has been demonstrated in the evidence that the California national quard is most defective in organization, and that the general officers are much to be biamed. It is believed Governor Markham will insist on a courtmartial.

MEANT TO OVERTEROW A RELIGION

Choice Spirits. IT IS AN UNCHRISTIAN-LIKE ORDER

This One Has No Mercy-Egan Has Something to Say in Regard to the Policy of the Church.

New York, October 5.—At a meeting of the executive national republican committee, Chairman Manley submitted a long letter from Patrick Egan, dated September 11th, bearing upon the American Protective Association. After giving the purposes for which the American Protective Association was formed, viz: to retard and break down the power of the pope, and also to oppose the Roman Catholic candidates for public offices, Mr. Egan says: "The American Protective Association entered upon a campaign of the most deliberate, venomous and outrageous misrepge-sentation and slander against the Roman Catholic church, its rights, its origin, its clergy, its convents and its members, and above all, by attributing to the papal authority certain designs and purposes in re-gard to the politics of this country which the American Roman Catholic hiearchy and the lay members of the Roman Catholic church would themselves be the very first to rise up against and defeat. "It is attempting by stealth, by secret delegations, and by fallacious representadelegations, and by fallacious representa-tion regarding its numerical strength and influence, to intimidate and capture weak-kneed politicians of all parties and commit them to pledges to support the un-Christian and un-American objects of the order; and seeing that all present indications point in the direction of republican success, it is making special efforts to attach itself to the republican party that it may be able

the republican party that it may be able to claim a share in its prospective victories.

"The Roman Catholics, numbering at present nearly one-fifth of the population of the United States, never have sought and never will seek any advantage of their fellow citizens. They never have countenanced and never will countenance either tenanced, and never will countenance, either persecution or proscription against any other section of the people on account of religious beliefs. They have never sought in the past, nor will they ever seek in the future, any more than that equity, to which, under the constitution of their country, they are entitled.

"I feel confident that the enlightened sentiment of the American people can be depended upon to very soon stamp out the present obnoxious attempt to revive among present obnoxious attempt to revive among us the feuds and horrors of 'know-nothing-ism.' Meantime, I feel that we Catague republicans have the right to expect from our leaders the assurance that all attempts on the part of those bigots and disturbers to exploit our party will be strongly discountenanced, and that he negotiations or alliances will be entered into, or undertakings or pledges he given to the sa-called ings or pledges be given to the so-called American Protective Association or to any kindred association

The Herald adds: "The committeemen were loath to say anything upon the subject after the meeting, but it was gathered that they had thought it wise to take no action in the matter, holding that they should not touch upon a question that had been ignored by the state convention. convention the plank was not included.

Single. Chattanooga, Tenn., October 5.—(Special.) In an application for a divorce filed in the circuit court yesterday there is material for small dime novel. Mrs. Minnie Bunn is the complainant, and she prays to be freed from the bonds of matrimony into which she says she was literally dragged on September 17th, when, as Miss Minnie Bass, she became Mrs. Joe Bunn-The plea of the plaintin is that at the time of the marriage she was not mentally capable or qualified to exercise her will by reason of certain diseases. She says that on the day of the marriage she came to the city from her home in Sherman Heights, when she was met on the streets by a Mr. Jordson, formerly her neighbor in Sherman Heights, who asked her to go to his home with him to see his wife, which she did, and there met Bunn, who, having previously courted her, now declared that she must marry him. She protested. Bunn then re-sorted to threats. Moved by his magnetism and under something of a spell, she went with him to Dr. Sloan's residence and was there united in marriage with him. After the marriage she remained four days at his house and then ran away. In her haste she left several of her things at the house and went back the next day to get them, when she was seized by Bunn and locked up for two days, when she again escaped and got home.

The alleged conspiracy is characterized as a cruel design upon the honor of an innocent and weak-minded young girl.

Testimony Is Introduced Going to Show What He Confessed. Nashville, Tenn., October 5.—(Special.)— Several interesting links in the chain of evidence against Hardin and his co-defendants in the express robbery case were forged today. The examination of Detective Dodge was continued. He succeeded in locating Hardin at Mooreland, near Chicago, but waile he was securing a requisition from the governor of Missouri Hardin fied. He followed Mrs. Brauen, Hardin's mother-in-followed Mrs. Brauen, Hardin's mother-inlaw, to Fort Wayne.

The defense objected and the jury retired.
Mr. Washington then said he expected to prove by Mrs. Brauen that the embezziement was committed, that the money was divided and part of it hidden in her house at Mocreland, and that they fied on learning of his presence. He expected to prove that Hardin had part of the stolen money.
Judge Anderson decided to admit the evidence.

Captain Dodge then testified that at Fort Wayne he received from Mrs. Brauen let-ters received by her from Mrs. Ketchum from Elrod and Hardin. Part of them was from Eirod and Hardin. Part of them was in cipher. These were from Alma, Ark, where he had Hardin or Ketchum arrested.

The defense objected to the testimony concerning the letters, but they will be offered in evidence. Dodge saw Hardin in the Kansas City jail. He then to'd how he had worked him up almost to the point of confession. He took Mrs. Ketchum to Kansas City. She and Hardin were married there, He obtained no confession untill Hardin was jalled here, when Hardin told him the money had been used, that Elrod fixed it all. Elrod had used his influence over him because of his knowledge of his past record. Elrod had forced him to do many things he did not want to do. Elrod made him go to him at 8t. Louis and at Louisville. Elrod had done him many dirty tricks, but that the worst was retaining $50 he had saved up and asked him to send to his mother.

The defense objected to this testimony, and Judge Anderson decided to exclude all concerning the confession, even to the admission that his name was Kenchum. On the cross erumination Dodge admitted having attempted to secure a confession from Mrs. Brauen and Mrs. Ketchum. There was nothing new in the other test mony today.

ENGLAND WATCHING JAPAN.

She Is Determined That the Settlement Shall Be International.

Manchester, October 5.—The Guardian says today that English diplomats in Japan cabled to London on September 30th the destination of the secret expedition which left Niroshims last week and also described the policy that the Japanese government would adopt in the event of the collapse of China. Russia and England, however, have decided that the settlement of the trouble between China and Japan shall be an international, and not merely a Japanese affair, and this fact has tended to make Japan party. Japan angry. Germany and France, The Guardian says, concurred in the plan to make the settlement an international matter. The policy of the United States government is uncertain. It has been the tendency of the United States for the last twenty years to strike out its own line on eastern questions without regard to other. on eastern questions without regard to other powers. Japan in her present mood, will pay no heed to the representations made by the powers unless they shall be accom-panied by tangible evidences of the intention to back them up. It was to authorize this, according to The Guardian, that the ministerial council of yesterday was sum-

The paper further says that after a show of force, Japan would be told that England desired that an armistice be established and on behalf of Europe would im-mediately call an international conference. The Globe in an article referring to yes-terday's ministerial council, ridicules the idea that it was summoned merely for the purpose of sending warships to protect the lives and property of British residents in China and expresses the opinion that The Manchester Guardian's article of today gives the real reason for the meeting of The St. James Gazette expresses a simi-

Must Consult the Powers.

I ondon, October 5.—A dispatch to The Morning Post from Shanghai says that several Japanese warships are patrolling the sea near Wel-hai-Wel, or Port Arthur. The warships approach the coast at night-fall and steam away again at dawn. The Morning Post insists that it is impossible to allow Japan to dictate terms to China without consulting the European powers. The Morning Post discusses America's interests in the question and concludes that these are purely commercial, while Europe's are also political. For the sake of the warld's peace, it says, Russia, Ger-many, France and Great Britain must in-

Chinese Retreating.

London, October 6.—The Central News correspondent in Shanghai telegraphs:

"Seventy Japanese transports passed the northern promontory, near Chee-Foo, on the morning of October 24.

"New-Chwang reports are to the effect that the Chinese are in full retreat from Moulden.

"Ten thousand armed Coreans are re-ceiving Japanese pay." Germans Will Appeal. A Yokohama dispatch published here says: The German residents of Japan have Germany and Japan, regarding fereign consular jurisdiction. Japan desires the treaty revised on the lines of the recent treaty between England and Japan, which, after a certain period, does away with the Pritish consular courts. The Germans are opposed to the abolition of the consular

A NEW ENGINE OF DEATH.

A Fort Worth Man Makes a Deal with Fort Worth, Tex., October 5.—The latest discovery of destructive machines is the in-vention of a Fort Worth man, General F. M. Clarke, late secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The invention is called electri-cal fish-shaped torpedo, to be used in naval warfare. It has been tested and works to perfection. The torpedo can be so con-trolled by electrical appliances that it can be projected against warships and blow them to atoms. General Clarke left tonight for New York to complete a deal with the Chinese government to supply the torpe-does to be used in the war with Japan.

The Chinese are to pay $1,000,000, of which sum the inventor is to receive $500,000 and his partner, Colonel Fred Grant, the re-maining $400,000, General Clarke received a check for $5,000 from the Chinese govern. check for $5,000 from the Chinese govern-ment to pay his expenses in consummating the great deal. Anarchist.

London, October 5.—As the duke and duchess of York were proceeding in a carriage at Leeds this afternoon to Yorkshire college, at the opening ceremonies of which they were to be present, a man rushed from the crowd which lined the route to the college buildings and attempted to force his way to the side of the carriage. One of the detachment of lancers, acting as an escort, struck the man repeatedly with his sword, and drove him back to the crowd where he was taken in charge by the police. The prisoner proved to be an imbecile, and it is believed that his action in rushing toward the carriage was prompted solely by a desire to shake hands with the duke and duchess.

Manlon Bas Trouble Getting His Men to Go on the Field-The Score Was 9 to 6.

Baltimore, Md., October 5 .- Hundreds of Baltimore enthusiasts who had arranged to go to New York tonight to see the Orioles and Giants play ball tomorrow can celed their engagements. Many of them discarded their orange and black neckties and other Oriole decorations and donned plain black as better representing their state of mind. The New Yorks won the second game of the Temple series much as they won yesterday's game-by outbatting the home club-and the rooters were sad in consequence. It was not alone the loss of the game, however, that caused so many heartaches. More properly should the dissatisfaction and disaffection be attributed to the faults of the players while off the

This morning the Orioles were in as uncertain a frame of mind over the playing of the Temple series as they were yesterday. Some of the players were sulking and wrangling, and McGraw openly asserted that he would not play in another game. The outlook was not encouraging for a con-tinuation of the sport, and it was then that the people of Baltimore, as they became acquainted with the facts, began to criti-cise the pennant winners. Recalling to them that they had shown their appreciation of the ball team in a way which bor-dered on the princely, the citizens insisted that the players show a like appreciation of favors extended and defend the city's fair name for sportsmanlike conduct. They argued that the series had been created d that the majority of the games must be won or lost in a manly way if the good name of the team and city was to be pre-served. Yesterday's haggling and quibbling was forgiven, but no more wrangling would tomorrow. A crowd of nearly 11,000 persons was on the grounds when the game was called. It was an ideal day for baseball. New York earned four runs in the third inning. Bal-timore tied the score in their half of the same inning and took the lead in the seventh. The Giants tied the score in the eighth and won out in the ninth through Jennings's error.

The side would have been retired had Jennings made what would ordinarily have been an easy play. Tiernan's triple cleared the bases. The Orioles scored one and had three men left on bases in the ninth. Here

HOW THE HORSES RAN. Opening Day of the Fall Meeting at

Morris Park. Morris Park Race Track, N. Y., October 5.—Today was the opening day of the fall meeting of the New York Jockey Club. The weather was all that could have been desired, but the track was soft and sticky owing to the recent rains. The attendance owing to the recent rains. The attendance was not large. The programme offered was a fair one. The Albany stakes for two-year-olds brought six horses to the post, Bright Phoebus being made a hot favorite, and found little difficulty in disposing of the field in short order by four lengths. The Jerome handleap was also wan by the favorite, Rubicon, by two lengths. The track dried up perceptibly as lengths. THE NEW YORKS PLAY STRONGLY BOTH SATISFIED WITH THE RESULT

Colonel Plowman Gers the Nomination for Congress in the Fourth District-Tal-ladega's Large Vote Did It.

Montgomery, Alu., October 5.—(Special.)— Horace Hood, of The Evening Journal, and D. W. McIver, of The Advertiser, had a personal difficulty on the streets here today which resulted in each receiving some painful and rather unbecoming bruises and bumps. Editor Hood had taken occasion to refer to Mr. McIver's personal disagreement with Colonel Denson in Birmnigham last Tuesday in a manner that gave offense to The Advertiser's associated editor. When the gentlemen met on the street today Mr. McIver waded in after satisfaction. An ex-ceedingly lively fracas ensued with the result that both gottlemen were considera-bly scratched and bruised, but fortunately without anything serious befalling either. Both are satisfied with the result.

PLOWMAN SURPRISED THEM.

Caldwell and Robbins Discredit the Vote Which He Received.

Anniston, Ala., October 5.—(Special.)—The official canvass of the votes of last Tuesday's fourth district democratic congressional primaries was made at Jacksonville this morning by Joseph J. Arnold, secretary of the district executive committee, Chair-man Ayers being out of the state. The results as certified to by the county chairman Ayers being out of the state. The results as certified to by the county chairmen and sent up were as follows:

Calhoun county—Caldweil, 1,917. Robbins, 187; Plowman, 3. Chilton—Caldwell, 67; Robbins, 224; Plowman, 5. Cleburne—Caldwell, 208; Pottins, 229; Plowman, 0. Dallas—Caldwell, 182; Robbins, 969; Plowman, 10. Spelby—Caldwell, 248; Robbins, 276; Plowman, 279. Talladega—Caldwell, 55; Robbins, 353. Plowman, 3,062. Totals—Caldwell, 52; Robbins, 227; Plowman, 3,556.

The result in Talladega was carefully concealed until today and when it became known it brought consternation with it. There is probably not a man in the fourth district tonight who believes that Plowman received the vote in Talladega credited to him and which gave him the nomination. Talladega's democratic strength for four years past has been about 2,200 votes and on Tuesday sine is allaged to have polled 3,459 white democratic votes. It is known beyond a reasonable doubt that both Caldwell and Robbins received twice the number of votes in Talladega credited to them, and in the Montello box, in Shelby county, it is charged that fifty proxies in one bunch were voted for Plowman. Both the Caldwell and Robbins men are highly indignant and there is no telling what may result. Several conferences have been held but nothing yet is definitely decided upon. There is strong talk of an independent candidate, but the law which provides that the name shall be filed with the secretary by tomorrow night, thirty days before the election may prevent it. The primary was held to fill the wacancy caused by the resignation of Mardis Wood.

CRUSHED BY A CAR.

Judge Frazer of Opelika Run Over While Crossing the Track.

Opellita, Ala., October 5.—(Special.)—Judge Thomas L. Frazer, of this city, was the victim of a most horrible railroad accident about 7 o'clock this morning. His friends? claim criminal negligence on the part of the railroad employes, and insist that the rules of the company were disregarded and ignored. He was run over by a freight car in front of the Cooper hotel. He was badly crushed and both legs were amputated. Judge Frazer died in a few hours. He was one of the most prominent citizens of Alabama. At one time he was probate judge of Lee county. He was about fifty-five years of age.

An Aged Traveler Dies.

Dadeville, Ala., October 5 .- (Special.) An aged white man was brought into town last Thursday by authority of the county last Thursday by authority of the county officers, who was found out on the old Rowe officers, who was found out on the old Rowe plantation, some six miles from town, in a dying condition. He died on the way to town. Before dying he said his name was Wooten and he was on his way to Kentucky, whence he had gone some two years ago to Florida for his health. He had no money about his person when found, but a budget of clothes which contained a little book of recipes, also some stray leaflets of poetry and hieroglyphics which could not be deciphered. He was buried at the city cemetery at the expense of the county.

A Lucky Shot.

Montgomery, Ala., October 5.—A little four-year-old daughter of W. A. Brazwell, near Cotton Hill, had a narrow escape from being bitten by a monster rattlesnake one day last week. The child was gathering chips from the woodpile when attacked and immediately began to scream. Her cries soon brought her father to her rescue, who killed the snake with his shotgun. The snake was six and a half feet long and had sixteen rattles and a button.

Pickens County Ahead on Ment. Livingston, Ala., Actober 5.—The people in the neighborhood of Pickensville report that they have on hand 2,000 head of hogs designed for slaughter during the coming winter. This means about 150 pounds of meat per capita and is a matter of more importance than the amount of money in circulation in Pickens.

A Stricken Family. Richmond, Va., October 5.—(Special.)—Miss fora C. Wright died at 721 North Twenty-Cora C. Wright died at 721 North Twenty-seventh street today, making the fourth death in a few weeks in a family of seven, all of whom have been stricken down with typhold fever. The case has been a remarkably sad one. First the father fell sick and soon died. Then the oldest son and the mother were stricken. They are now convalescent, but a son and a young daughter died a few days ago. This morning the oldest daughter was taken. The disease is of the most malignant form and the physicians have been unable to locate its cause.

By the middle of the month the soldiers that have been at the barracks for the past year will know it no more. In the meantime there will have come companies from all pasts of the United States. The Fifth artillery band will take the place of the Third artil-lery musicians, and it is said to be among

is the fort where Garantee has been keet is the fort where Geronimo has been kept for so long, and that wily warrier has been removed to where the scenes are changed from the time when he was a wild rover. The new commandant will arrive shortly from St. Augustine, Fla., and with him will come several companies. He is said to be a splendid officer and one who is loved as well as respected by all of his subordinates. He will take the place of Colonel L. L. Livingston, and by title is

Colonel Osborn: Among the officers at present stationed at Fort McPherson and who will scon be re-moved is Major Ramsay, who has scores upon scores of friends in this city who will be sorry to see him leave. He is a man who was fairly pulled into army life. His ancestors before him were in the navy, but he inherited from his mother's side a desire to remain on land and serve his nation, so he accepted an army appointment. He is soon to receive a promotion and will go to Jackson barracks, New Orleans, to take charge there as colonel. He is a great so-cial favorite, and is regarded by all with whom he comes in contact as a thorough gentleman, a jolly good fellow and a perfect soldier. He is at present on a sixty days' furlough.

SUICIDE AT MARIETTA. Captain James Hughes Takes His Life. His Life Well Insured.

Marietta, Ga., October 5.-(Special.)-The members of Captain James G. Hughes's was aroused at 3:30 o'clock this morning by two loud pistol shots at the back door of their residence. These reports were followed by a deep groan and something fell heavily to the floor of the small veranda in front of the back door. At Quickly rushing down Mrs. Hughes, the captain's wife, and their daughter, Miss Dora, found the captain's room door next to the veranda open and he was missing. The back days and he was missing. The back door was open and through it they went and found the father and husband lying on the floor on his right side. At his feet was a pistol,

The captain was dying.

The next-door neighbors were soon arous ed and messengers flew for medical aid. Drs. Simpson, Setze, Nolan and Cortelon ere quickly on hand, but too late had been almost instantaneous. He never spoke after he was shot, and to his daughter, Miss Dora, who held his hand and th other members of his family around him, the terrible fact was quickly apparent that the father and husband was beyond all hu man ald.

The cause of his suicide no human being knows. No one was about him when the knows. No one was about him when the shots were fired and no note explaining the deed was left, so far as any one has yet learned. He had, for some time, been a great sufferer. A gunshot wound that he received in the late war had given him great group and impeded his locomotion. Hecently eczema had set in and this caused his nights to be sleepless and fined with grains were so acute that tears streamed down his face. Yesterday his suffering. The great, did not seem so bad as on Wednesday. He complained, and tobacco leaves were wrapped around his legs, which gave relief. He ate his dinner and supper and played cards with some of the family till about 9 o'clock at night, stating that by doing so he could partly forget his suffering. He went to bed at this hour and this was the last seen of him until he was found as described. His room was downstairs and he slept by himself.

It is the generally accepted theory that along in the early hours of morning his sufferings became more than he could bear; that he got his pistol and walked out on the back veganda and, placing it against the left breast, fired. The bullet went straight to his heart. The second bullet may have been fired in the fail.

Coroner M. R. Lyon impaneled a jury of inquest this morning, but no verdict has been made.

Captain Hughes stood well. He was born shots were fired and no note explaining the of inquest this morning, but no verdict has been made.

Captain Hughes stood well. He was born in Ireland more than sixty years ago. He lived in Massachusetts. Connecticut and later in New York. From this state he enlisted in the union army and inside a brave soldier. After the war he was appointed superintendent of the national cemetry here and held the position for sixteen years. Under President Harrison he became postmaster of Marietta and held this position for four years.

He had between $15,000 and $20,000 insurance on his life.

The Volume of Trade Is Steadily Expanding Throughout the South

TEN PER CENT BETTER IN ATLANTA Still Cotton Is Lower Than It Ever Was Before-All Industries Are in a More

Satisfactory Condition. New York, October 5 .- Bradstreet's tonorrow, October 6th, will say.

"While no radical change has appeared this week there are evidences pointing to continued progress in the direction of im-provement. This is true of the country at large. From the south the most favorable report comes from Jacksonville, where wholesale trade is good and retail trade improves. Merchandise is moving satisfac-torily from Savannah and from Charleston and Chattanooga. Evansville finds encouragement in increased bank clearings although collections have been disappoint ing. Business has been fair at Memphis in dry goods, shoes and clothing, and at Atlanta the volume of trade has increased 10 per cent in most leading lines. Improve-ment is also shown at Augusta and the volume of sales of groceries and hardware from New Orleans has increased. Galveston and Birmingham report no change."

Dun's Review of Trade. R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade omorrow will say: "The lowest prices ever known for wheat and cotton necessarily imply somewhat restricted consumption of other products. With the chief money crops of the west and south sinking in value, it is not strange that purchases of manufactured products are smaller than was expected. Wheat has touched the lowest point ever known for options, and cotton the lowest ever known in any form with the present classification, and the accumulation of stocks in both products is discouraging to purchasers for an advance. Producers are compelled to sell at prices below the ordinary cost of raising crops and in some western states there is also a lamentable failure of the corn crop. Under the circumstances it would be very strange if the demand for manufactured products should be quite as large as in other years. "Cotton is one-eighth of a cent lower, the cash price being the lowest known for forty-five years, and considering the differ-ence in classification it is perhaps lower than at any time in 1849, and estimates that the crop is more than 10,000,000 bales are more commonly credited now than estimates of 8,500,000 were two months ago. With favorable weather the yield seems likely to net larger than ever known.

"Cotton print cloths are a shade stronger, as the news from Fall River regarding the duration of the strike is less encouraging, but for other goods the market is slow, as might be expected in view of the heavy dein the raw naterial.

"The condition of industries is in some respect more satisfactory. Evidently there is a larger demand for iron products than there was a month ago, thought the increase in output has been somewhat greater than the increase in the demand, so that prices steadily tend downward. Pittsburg and bar iron at 95 cents, with steel bars at $1.05, while a contract to sup press the principal western competitor in nail manufacture is expected to hold the price at $1 for wire and 85 cents for cut nails. The structural iron market is fairly active at the west, without change at the east, and while the coke output has now become the heaviest ever known, 149,775 tons for the week, the price is declining and steps are being taken to limit the supply. The volume of domestic trade indicated by the exchanges at the principal clearing houses is 11.8 per cent larger than a year age, but in comparison with 1892 rhows a decrease of 22.8 per cent.

"In the money market more commercial paper is coming into sight, though on the whole the market is by no means encouraging and good single-name paper has been placed at 3 per cent, the lowest rate on record. "Commercial failure in the third quarter of 1894 have involved liabilities of $25 exclusive of banking institutions and rail-roads, against $82,469,821 reported a year ago for the same quarter, and for nine months of 1894 the liabilities have been $131,months of 1894 the Habilities have been $13,-094,502, against $251,334,265 last year. The manufacturing liabilities were $12,331,892, against $23,606,865 reported a year ago, and in trading $14,131,230 for the quarter, against $53,814,176 a year ago. For the month of September the liabilities have been smaller than in any other month this year, only $6,897,124, of which $2,904,873 were of manufacturing and $3,650,092 of trading concerns "The failures for the past week have been 210 in the United States, against 320 last year, and thirty-nine in Canada, against forty-five last year."

The Chinese and Japanese armies are not so well supplied as our own. In the American army and navy Dr. Price's Baking Powder is constantly in use.

Mr. Coffin Consents to a Receiver for His Firm.

New York, October 5.—Newman Erb has been appointed receiver for the firm of Coffin & Stanton, well-known bankers, in the United States court in a suit brought to dissolve the capartnership brought by Walter Stanton against William E. Coffin, his partner. The present firm was formed on January 10th last, succeeding a former firm and Mr. Stanton declares he is desirous of dissolving it and closing up the business. Mr. Coffin also consented to the appointment of the receiver.

The liabilities are stated to be $3,600,000 and the assets are said to be sufficient to pay the liabilities if judiciously handled and not sacrificed. The assets consist largely of atocks, bonds and credits. Mr. Stanton further declared that no equitable division of the assets can be made without great loss to all parties, except by sale thereof and a division of the proceeds. This is the firm which is involved in the litigation over the city of Ironwood, Mich. bonds.

For some time past they have been "planting their paper," or, in other words, securing loans from country banks on their notes. Their paper is said to be scattered all over New England and is placed to some extent in the west. One of their notes, on which they secured $15,000 from a Connecticut bank, went to protest today. It was due in five days' notice, and it was called in last Saturday. A note for $5,000, held by a western bank, is said to have fallen due two or three weeks ago. Payment was de-manded, but Coffin & Stanton could pay only $500 and gave small notes extending over a protracted period for the remainder.

The firm had a handsomely engraved form of note, showing that it borrowed ex-tensively. In the case of the Connecticut bank mentioned above, the collateral for the note was $5,000 Illinois Central rail-road 4 per cent bonds and $14,000 5 per cent bonds of the American Debenture Com-pany, of New York. The debenture company was a creation of Coffin & Stanton's. It issued its own bonds, and these were placed in trust with the Atlantic Trust Company to secure the securities which came into the hands of Coffin & Stanton. The debenture company was authorized to to date has retired all but $216,000 of them The actual cause of the strangency in the affairs of the firm appears to have been their inability to find a market for the municipal securities which came into their hands. It is feared that the banks which made loans to them will sustain con-siderable losses. They were rated by Bradstreet at between $400,000 and $500,000, but of late their credit had been poor. London office of the firm was at No. 43 Threadneedle street. The firm is composed of William E. Coffin and Walter L. Stanton and has been in existence about

Mrs. Drayton's Counsel Wants Incider Extension.

Somerville, N. J., October 5.—There is another postponement in the J. Coleman Drayton divorce proceedings and now no one knows when the issue will be joined. The answer by Mrs. Drayton to her husband's petition for divorce has not been filed, nor will it be filed tomorrow, which day, until this afternoon, was supposed to be the last day for the filing of the same. This afternoon the Hon. Alva A. Clark said that Mr. Shipman, counsel for Mrs. Drayton, had made another application for an extension of time beyond that fixed in which to file her answer. Mr. Shipman asked for only a few days, but, as a matter of professional courtery, Mr. Clark has agreed to extend the day for filing the answer to November 1st. This is the second time that the counsel for Mrs. Drayton has asked for a postponement, and while Mr. Clark is perfectly willing to be fair and honorable he says positively that he will not submit to any further delay. Mr. Shipman's reason for delay is not known, but it is thought he expected Mrs. Drayton to arrive from Europe on October 1st, and her failure to do so and the impossibility of counsel setting her are the reasons generally assigned for his asking a second axtension of time. During the session of the body the question of salaries of the mayor, aidermen and councilmen was brought up, too, by an ordinance introduced by Mr. Martin, challdinance introduced by Mr. Martin, chairman of the salary committee. The law, as has been stated, requires the general council to fix the salaries of those officials at the first meeting of the general council in October. Mr. Martin presented an ordinance fixing the salary of the mayor at $2.00 a year and the salaries of the aldermen and councilmen at $50 each a year. third member of the committee, sent in a minority report, or ordinance, in which he left the mayor's salary at $2,500, but wanted the salaries of the aldermen and councilmen placed at $200 a year each.

The two reports led to a warm and lengthy discussion, and it looked very much like the body would not agree, when something like a compromise, at least for the time being, was obtained by the adoption of a notion to postpone the further consideration of the matter until the adjourned session on Saturday afternoon.

The question of salaries will be one of the features of the session this afternoon.

The application of Stewart & Bowden for a building permit on Marietin street, near Bartow, will come up, too. These gentlemen are prepared to build one of the largest and finest stables in the south, but the people residing in that portion of the city are not favorably inclined towards a large stock stable, and an attempt has be a made to prevent the erection of the stable. The matter came up at the last meeting of the general council, the fire department committee having made a favorable report on the petition for the permit. There was objection to the building, and the council, after several of the members had discussed it, decided to let the final disposition of the matter go over to the meeting this afternoon, when both sides will be heard from.

the counties have been heard from and the figures corroborate the reports received by The Constitution on Wednesday night from the election and published on Thursday morning. Some changes have been caused by throwing out a few boxes because of illegality, but these do not change the general result materially, and the vote published in Thursday's Constitution is found to be surprisingly accurate.

LOOKS TO BE SAFE.

The Amendment Providing for Auditional Judges Has Passed.

From all the accounts and reports ob tainable at present it looks as though the amendment providing for additional judges for the supreme bench has received a favorable vote. ' A number of prominent attorneys have so expressed themselves and Judge Marshall Clarke, who is one of the candidates for election to the new place, believes that the amendment has been carried. The additional judges are badly needed, as the work put upon the present three judges increases every day. In no state of a similar population are there so few judges on the supreme bench, and in many where there are more judges there are fewer cases to be tried.

The increase of judges has been advocated by attorneys and newspapers all over The state for years, and it is very likely that this has had its effect. The full returns will probably indicate a favorable vote. The other amendments have probably been defeated, as they stood in the light of overshadowed features.

IRREGULARITIES IN PIKE.

The Reason the Three Precincts Were Thrown Out.

Barnesville, Ga., October 5 .- (Special.)-Pike is solid with a democratic representative. The board of election managers met in Zebulon yesterday and proceeded with the consolidation of the votes. It was found that Lifsey, Concord and Piedmont precincts sent up lists and tally sheets with no signatures of the freeholders and justice of the peace. Lifsey precinct, where 350 votes were cast and only 25 were democratic, was managed by S. S. Barrett, J. P., a populist and son of the third party candidate for representative. This was the first out on this point. Concord with a democratic majority was next, and Pledmont then followed, giving J. P. Redding, democrat, 32 majority.

Mr. C. L. Butler, a leading populist, ac-Mr. C. L. Butler, a leading populist, acknowledged the corn and gave up, while Mr. Barrett, his sons and followers, could not see it that way. A large crowd of Barnesville people went to Zebulon to witness the proceedings and they came back jubilant. the news had been telephoned here.

Mr. Barrett was quite blue during the day in Zebulon and remarked that A. A. Murphey lost him 200 white votes by preaching social equality to the negro. Affidavits are being made by those who heard the third party candidate make the statement. Populate and democrate are watching the outulists and democrats are watching the out-come of this statement made by Mr. Bar-rett. The democrats would have won easily after throwing out illegal votes, as more than 800 illegal votes were cast, nearly all of which were for the populist. The third party has made very few, if any, white party has made very few, gains in Pike. The third party has called a mass meeting in Zebulon for tomorrow.

Americus, Ga., October 5.-(Special.)-The nocrats of Sumter county, as well as those of all the counties of the third congressional district, are congratulating them selves upon the fact that the third rolled up the largest democratic majority of any district in the state.

ing the Fourth District. Columbus, Ga., October 5.-(Special.)-Carey Thornton is jubilant over the result of the election in the fourth district.

Thornton is the populist candidate for congress against Mr. Moses.

Atkinson's small majority in the fourth district was due largely to the fact that the democrats apprehended no danger and did not turn out to vote. The result will be different next month, Mr. Moses, carried different next month. Mr. Moses carried this district by 5,000 two years ago, and it is believed he will have at least 3,000 majority this time.

No Doubt Is Felt About the Ninth in November.

The friends of Newt Twitty, the populist candidate for congress against Mr. Tate, feel greatly encouraged, and are so expressing themselves, yet the democrats have no fear of the result next month in the congressional election. There will be no demo-cratic apathy in this district next month Mr. Tate will commence an active canvass of the district at once. He does not expect a walkover, but the ninth is sure to roll up a safe majority.

Marietta, Ga., October 3 .- Editor Consti tution: In an interview of your reporter with Hon. John D. Cunningham, acting chairman of the populist executive committee, Mr. Cunningham, I have no doubt unintentionally, does judge George F. Gounintentionally, does Judge George F. Gober an injustice in the statement that Judge Gober postponed the proceeding for mandamus against Judge Stone, ordinary, for the production of the registration lists of this county, to a date after the election. As the attorney of Hon. John A. Sibley Judge C. D. Phillips and I filed a petition for mandamus and the hearing was set for yesterday, the 2d instant. Judge Stone's attorney filed a demurrer, also an answer raising an issue of fact. This being the case Judge Gober had neither discretion nor alternative in the matter, as the law directs that in all cases for mandamus where an answer is filed which raises an issue of fact, the same shall be returned to the next term of the superior court if the court is not then in session. See Acts of 1852-83, p. 162.

Savannah, Ga., October 5.-(Special.)-At a caucus of the leaders of the Chizens Club today it was unanimously decided that Major John Schwarz should be the nomines of the club for mayor of this city at the coming election. This was decided. It is said, at a conference between Major Schwarz and Dr. Duncan and Mr. Herman Myers, the other talked-of candidates, heid Myers, the other tanked-of candidates, held a few days ago. It is contemplated that the nomination shall be made at a meeting of the club next Monday night, and that it shall be by acclamation. Many leading politicians believe that this club will carry the election by a large majority.

Colonel Norwood's Opinion . Ex-Senator Thomas M. Norwood says the slump in the democratic majority is due largely to the dissatisfaction with the national administration.

"I do not believe." he said, "that the greatly increased populist vote was due entirely to the negro vote. As a matter of fact, the greater part of the increase was in defections from the democratic party The number of white populists in Georgia has vastly increased and there is no use in concealing the fact. If Georgia was in her giory on Wednesday, a repetition of the same kind of giory in 1896 will put a pop-ulist in the gubernatorial chair. The people in the country are dissatisfied with the failure of the party to give them greater tariff relief, from its failure to carry out its pledge in regard to lifting the tax from state banks of issue, and from its failure to give some legislation on the silver question that would be in some sense satisfac tory to them. That is what I attribute the reduced democratic vote to.

THE SUNSET OF LIFE.

When People Grow Old They Require More Care and Assistance Than at Any Other Time.

"When people get along in years they always need help."

It was a doctor who spoke and he seemel very earnest.

"I don't mean that they need money," h very earnest.

"I don't mean that they need money," he dontinued, "but they need something to assist them physically when life is at low ebb. All people need help; every doctor admits this; all old people realize it, and it is only natural that it should be so. I believe that people could profons their lives a great many years; in fact indefinitely, if they would only exercise prope: care amit assist nature just a little. This can only be done by using some gentle at an and there certainly is nothing for this purpose equal to pure whisky. It is pernaps unfortunate that there are so few aure medicinal whiskies on the market; but there is certainly one, and that is Duff, a Pure Mait. It is, in fact, the only recognized medicinal whisky, and it is est ectally designed for gently ald/ar elderly pople who must have help.

This great medicinal whisky is sold by all reputable druggists and grocers, and it is a godsend to those paple avanced in years who require just the assistance it so hopefully gives. Great care should be shown, however, to seeure only the genulne. Some druggists and grocers try to sell inferior whiskies that they can make more enout you should not be deceived. There are no other medicinal whiskies on the market.

An Unpleasant Episode.

It is to be regretted that the count in the fifth and second wards was delayed so long.

Some of the candidates and many citisens could not understand it, and their dissatisfaction was expressed in a very emphatic manner. It was rumored that some of the managers and clerks in the fifth ward had been guilty of irregularity and drunkenness, and there was also a good deal of grumbling about the slow count in the second ward.

The sixth ward polled a larger vote than either the fifth or the second, and yet the count in the sixth was finished by 8 o'clock on the morning after the election, while the count in the other two wards dragged slowly along until late in the afternoon. Naturally, this provoked a good deal of comment, and unpleasant rumors were circulated.

Of course, it is not likely that the charges of drunkenness and irregularity were well founded, but it must be admitted that the count in the fifth and second wards was unnecessarily prolonged. The managers and clerks doubt less acted fairly and faithfully all the way through, but it is plain that they did not work with the energy and the rapid and systematic methods of the managers and clerks in the sixth and in other wards.

In future we must avoid anything of the kind. Our election and primary managers and clerks should be men of experience, and when the vote is too heavy for one set to handle expeditiously, two sets should be appointed. Any unexpected delay in counting the vote. especially when a contest is close and exciting, will give rise to ugly reports and charges, even when the men who do the counting are faithful and of average capacity.

We cannot afford to have a repetition of the slow methods which have caused so much dissatisfaction in our recent city primary. It is an easy matter to get a force large enough and sufficiently expert to count the vote of the biggest ward in the city in the course of a few hours.

. The Passing of the Czar. The death of the czar of Russia may occur at any time within the next few

This may be regarded as a settled fact, and the next thing to consider is the effect of his death upon the European situation. The Russian autocrat is neither an enlightened nor a popular monarch, but he has ruled his millions with more wisdom and moderation than some of his predecessors have shown. As The New York Tribune puts it:

The career of Alexander III has been a melancholy illustration of the irony of a despot's fate. The second son of Alexander Liberator, he was constitutionally indolent, pleasure-loving and morose in temper and was educated as a soldier without refer ence to the possibilities of succession. The death of the czarowitz, a popular and accomplished prince, left him at twenty heir to the throne, and to the responsibilities of state, which were profoundly distasteful to him. His early manhood was embittered by the knowledge that he had taken the ce of one endeared to the hearts of Russians, and that he could not be allowed in a campaign like that of the Balkan to expose himself freely and to win the only thing for which he really cared-a great military reputation. Then came the tragicatastrophe of his father's death and the opening of a gloomy and harassing reign, during which he has been condemned to live in daily dread of the secret builet and the exploding bomb. The most powerful of monarchs, he could not return through the Morskaia Prospect from a requiem service in honor of his father's memory without being a target for assassins; nor is he free to visit his capital unless an army is put in motion to protect him; nor can he ake the rounds of his apartments in his secluded value fortress without having de-tectives dogging his steps. Is there anything more ironica, in the vicissitudes of royal fortune than this contrast between absolute sovereignty over millions and abject help-lessness to enjoy a momenous peace of mind in at atmosphere electric with suspicion? This pen picture will excite the inter-

The Bushwackers Explain.

The goldbug bushwhackers, who have done their best to handicap the democratic party in Georgia, and who have succeeded to the extent of cutting down the party majority from 70,000 two years ago to about 30,000, are now announcing in their organs and in the press telegrams that in the congressional districts represented by men who voted for "sound money"-that is to say, in favor of the republican plan to postpone democratic financial legislationthe party held its own; whereas, in districts represented by congressmen who recorded their votes in favor of financial legislation by the democrats, there was a slump in the majority.

The trouble with this announcement is that it fails to take into consideration the result in Speaker Crisp's district. The speaker took an active part In the campaign, and he announced in every speech he made that the failure of the democratic congress to pass a free coinage bill was in the nature of a personal disappointment to him. He deplored that failure, but he held out to democrats the hope that the party would soon be in a position to carry out all the pledges of the platform. Taking this high ground on the financial question, and making his views so definite that no man could misunderstand them, Speaker Crisp went about the state trying to infuse life into the democratic canvass, and striving to show that the democratic party could not afford to adopt the financial views of John Sherman. In response to his manly and eloquent utterances, Speaer Crisp's district gave a larger democratic majority than any other congressional district in the state.

As a matter of fact, however, the congressional districts, as districts, played no part in the election. The people had already been called on to deal with their congressional agents in the county conventions and primaries. In one instance a so-called "sound" money congressman was disposed of effectually by the nomination of his competitor, and in no instance did any free coinage congressman fail to receive the endorsement of his constituents.

It is worthy of note, in passing, that the goldbug bushwhackers put Lawson and Lester in one category and Black in another. Why? For no purpose, so far as we can see, except to create a false impression on the public mind. There is no difference whatever in the financial record of those congressmen. Lawson, Lester and Black all-voted for the alternative silver propositions put forward by Mr. Bland, and then they voted for the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law.

But nothing shows the absurdity of the goldbug claim more clearly than the fact that the gain in the populist vote is almost as large as the loss in the democratic vote. Is it possible that the so-called "sound" money men, in their anxiety to rebuke the democratic party for its free coinage principles, went over to the populists?

The whole truth of the business is that the attempt of the goldbug bushwhackers to popularize the financial views of John Sherman in Georgia has driven thousands of democrats temporarily out of the party. These democrats, hearing democratic campaign orators endorse republican views, simply said to themselves: "If these men are democrats, we belong to some other party," and so they went to bed for one night with the populists. It was a very foolish thing to do, considering the clear declarations of the party platforms and the firm and uncompromising attitude of the democratic candidate for governor; but men are sometimes given to doing foolish things.

In the congressional elections, the party must redeem itself. There must be no doubt or uncertainty in regard to the result. The people cannot afford to sacrifice their interests in order to rebuke a few goldbug bushwhackers who represent nobody but themselves.

Going Backward.

A new constitutional amendment to be voted upon in California in November reads as follows:

Foreigners of the white race, or of African descent, eligible to become citizens of the United States under the naturalization laws thereof, while bona fide residents of this state, shall have the same rights in respect to the acquisition, possession, enjoyment, transmission and inheritance of all property, other than real estate, as nativeborn citizens: Provided, That such aliens ng real estate at the time of the adoption of this amendment may remain such owners; and provided, further, that the legislature may, by statute, provide for the dis-position of real estate which shall hereafter be acquired bp such allens by descent or de-

Now, let us see how this is construed in California. The San Francisco Chronicle takes the position that it will prevent every person from China, Mexico and the South Sea islands from owning any property, real or personal. The

This is a return to the age of barbarism when every alien was deemed a public en-emy. The adoption of this amendment would at once put a stop to the investment of foreign capital in California and retard for years the development of our mines, the planting of orchards and the establishment of farming colonies, which results in the cutting up of large tracts of land. The incutting up of large tracts of land. The investment of foreign capital has uniformly resulted in development, and it would be a suicidal policy to adopt a provision of the organic law which should preclude it in the future. As soon as foreign capital is invested here it necessarily begins to work for the growth and development of the state, and we should be very roolish and shortinghted to flut it out.

Undoubtedly, this is a long step backward. In this free country, settled and built up by immigrants from every quarter of the world, there should be no such discrimination as is contemplated by the proposed amendment to the conward step should not be taken by any American state.

Governor Atkinson.

Though the democratic majority ha been reduced it is still a substantial majority and may be depended on to give the people good government for many a year. The populist tide has about reached high-water mark, and hereafter stress of circumstances-falling prices, shrinking values and general depression growing deeper and deeper as the single gold standard robs producers-will compel the people of Georgia and of the south to stand together in one party-and that the democratic party-in order to bring about the restoration of silver as a part and parcel of our primary money.

Meanwhile the democrats have elected their state ticket. The statehouse officials are all true and tried men, and have been faithful to their trusts. Governor Atkinson is a new man in the executive chair, but he is not new as a public official. He has been a leader in state politics for some time. He has been a member of the state legislature for sev eral years, and served with distinction and ability as speaker of the house.

No man is more familiar with our public affairs or with the needs of the state than Governor Atkinson, and he will bring to the discharge of his duties all the characteristics that go to make a successful and popular executive. He has native ability, experience and a sincere desire to serve the people faithfully and well. He possesses a tremendous amount of energy and all the progressiveness necessary to bind his purpose closely to the social and industrial development of the state. He has hardly reached the prime of life, but his long connection with public life has ripened his powers and given to his views the necessary touch of conserva-

We predict that his administration will be one of the most conspicuously successful that Georgia has ever had.

Why More Money Is Needed. The New Orleans Picayune, speaking of the growing demand for free silver,

The simple fact is that the masses of the people are in debt, in many cases heavily in debt, and they want cheap money with which to pay those debts. Those debts ar not the mere floating obligations which occur in the ordinary business of life, but they are mortgages on real estate, burden on the people's homes. Today the America people owe in mortgages upon their home and farms the enormous sum of $6,000,000,000 Their homes are at stake. The shelter for their families and the land from which they dig their subsistence, hang in the balance against $6,000,000,000 of debt for which thos homes and farms are bound. Suppose that colossal debt could be paid with silver, which can be bought up at 50 cents on the dollar, and, after being comed by the gov-ernment could be paid out at 100, would that ot be a consummation worth accomplish-

The returns of the United States census show that New York has the highest per capita mortgage debt, namely, $268; th District of Columbia has $226: Colorado $206; California, $200, and Kansas, $170. lower ratios are found in the south, where Arkansas has a per capita mortgage debi of $13; Georgia, $15; Tennessee, $23, and Alabama, $25. The average per capita debt of thirty-three states is $118. In New York city the mortgage debt is $554 per capita; in Philadelphia, $171; in Cook county, Illinois, containing Chicago, $161; in county, Missouri. containing Kansas City, $445; in Suffolk county, Massachusetts, containing Boston, $255. In all large cities the ratios are greater than they are in the states in which they are

But city real estate is able to stand a higher degree of indebtedness than country property, because the former is more productive, acre for acre, or lot for lot. Therefore the high rate at which Colorado, Callfornia and Kansas are mortgaged is alarming, because most of the lands bearing the burden are county lands. Besides the states mentioned, Illinois, Wisconsin. Nebraska and Minnesota are heavily loaded with mortgage debts. In twenty-two states, containing 29 per cent of the families of the United States, the census office reports that the encumbered homes (not including farms) that are occupied by owners have a debt that is 41 per cent of their value; farms, 35 per cent; total of farms and lomes, 38 per

With these facts and figures before us, it is plain enough that the great question of financial relief cannot be side tracked. The home owners and wage workers of this country do not propose to be sold out and impoverished if they can help it, and they believe free silver and the restoration of state banks will save them and re-establish general pros-

These issues, then, will remain very live ones until they are finally settled. and it is to be hoped that they will be settled in the right way. The contraction of our currency, if it continues much longer, will reduce even the middle classes to poverty, as it did in England. after the Napoleonic wars, and with the financial experience of the world before us we should not hesitate a moment when the question of free silver is trembling in the balance.

The pops popped up. Next time they will pop down.

The latest theory of the bushwhackers is that the anti-silver mon joined the populists. Well, they ought to join something that is not democratic, but it seems to us that the republican party is the place for them.

We notice that Mr. Hill is not as badly disturbed as Edltor Godkin.

We look to see all the little goldbug edi tors join in the chorus that the anti-silver men voted with the pops. If the little fellows can't help pull the goldbug wagon they can trot along behind. Mr. Seifert's able newspaper seems have had its feelings hurt. Connecticut towns that have been demo cratic for thirty years have gone republi can. Was this the work of the "sound money power? When Mr. Morton heard of Hill's nomin tion he went out and milked one of his Guernsey cows dry. We advise the goldbug bushwhackers who have been campaigning in Georgia that they ought to drop John Sherman's doctrines and take up civil service reform

as an issue. Cockran is losing his voice. As his voice is his fortune, sir, she cald, we don't know what Bourke will do for a living.

If Editor Godkin knew that Mr. Hill was losing sleep, he'd be happy. But Hill al-

They were all sitting around the fire teff ing ghost stories when they heard some-thing drop. One said it was a cow under the house. Another said it was the mule in the barn trying to nail on a loose plank. All had some reason, but nobody dreamed that a goldbug had fallen through the sky-light.

Princeton has again abolished hazing This means that new students should go armed with hoss-pistols and slung-shots.

Mr. Morton's barrel doesn't seem to work when Senator Hill is a candidate.

A Rochester, N. Y. special says: "In Butler, a village just east of this city, yesterday 'Kike' Culliford, a young married man, publicly sold his wife to Am-brose Dratt, of 'Slyburg,' for the nominal sum of 25 cents, which was immediately said and the transfer duly made.

'Culliford was married last winter, his wife being a divorced woman who had been released from her first marital bonds by her husband, being sentenced for larceny. She lived in comparative happiness with Culliford till this summer, when Dratt and another man known as 'Cub' Johnson began frequenting the house. Gossip ensued and fter the couple soon separated. Not long afterwards a truce was patched up and th two again began living together, but yesterday the husband came upon Dratt his wife and demanded of the former if he wanted the woman. Receiving an affirma-tive reply the sum already named was fixed upon and paid in her presence, and in the afternoon Dratt drove to the ho got the woman and her belongings. Culli ford afterwards went about boasting of his bargain, which he evidently considered good one.'

"A Marvel of Newspapers."

From The Ringgold New South. The Atlanta Constitution of today is a marvel of newspaper completeness and enterprise. The election returns from every county in Georgia shows the brilliant conception and clever execution of a feat without a parallel in the world of journalism. To the great papers of this progressive country it is a feature they can imitate but never excel. The Constitution's star, in its resplendancy of today, occupies the highest zenith of journalism, and all Georgia is proud of her. The New South pro poses three cheers for The Constitution and every loyal Georgian enters heartily into the grand chorus of two million voices.

FOUND IN THE FURROWS.

Albany Herald: To one who observes close ly and makes a note of everything that con-tributes to the sum total of southwest Geor-gia's prosperity, as The Herald does, the improved condition of the farm stock that is driven into Albany furnishes very conclu-sive evidence of the fact that more attention is being given by the farmers of this section to raising grain and forage crops for their stock. The horses and mules that come in from the country now look fat and sleek, their condition showing conclusively that they have plenty to cat. It wasn't so a few years ago, when western corn and hay at credit prices were fed to them. Then a fat, sleek team of mules was the exception. Now it is just the reverse-most of them are in fine condition, and a poor, half-straved country team is seldom seen on our streets. It is, indeed, a healthy sign, and The Herald is glad to chronicle it.

Barnesville Gazette: We hardly think it advisable for farmers to raise corn alone to sell, but they must produce all the corn they need and if they have some extra it will do no harm. Cotton is low and probably will never bring a good price again. Every farmer, to prosper, must make all produce on his farm, and as little cotton as

SOME GEORGIA STORIES.

Here is an "Enoch Arden" story with som variations, the scene being laid in Georgia. The Griffin Call says that Nelson Holden f Troup county, Georgia, joined the firs regiment from the state when the war broke out, leaving behind a young and very beau-tiful wife, having been married only a few months. Holden was a good soldier, and only once during the war did he obtain a furlough and visit his wife. He was a home for a short time during the summer of 1883, and soon after he returned to the war he was taken prisoner. Before Holden had an opportunity of writing to his wife after his capture he was taken ill with a slow malarial fever. When captured Holden had become separated from his company and his comrades thought he had been killed

Mrs. Holden's first notice of the supposed death of her husband was contained in some resolutions passed by his company, a copy of which was forwarded to the family. Without making any investigation, Mrs. Holden mourned her husband as dead, while he was lingering between life and death in a northern prison. It was many months before he fully recovered from the effects of he terrible fever. Holden was not released until after the close of the war, and weak from his long fillness and penniless, he started to make his way to the little home in Georgia. He was compelled to seek employment severa times to earn money to continue his iney, and it was late in the autumn of when Holden came in sight of his little home. He was a wreck of his former self, and fully realized that it would be difficult for his own wife to recognize him. Arriving at the home he had left more than two years before. Holden found it occupied by strangers. Without disclosing his identity he asked where Mrs. Holden was.

"Oh, she married Chris Jones and moved away last spring," was the answer received. Holden was prostrated by the shock of this startling intelligence, but without giving his name he turned and walked slo away from the little home where the hap-plest hours of his life had been passed. He made no effort to flad his wife, but continued his journey to Clay county, Ala-

Holden worked awhile as a farm laborer, and finally saved enough money to purchase a small farm of his own. In time the old love was forgotten and he married again. ### THE PRESS ON THE RESULT.

Augusta, Chronicle: We believe also that the different positions taken by the party leaders on the financial plank did much to check democratic ardor and to create doubt almong the people as democratic policy with regard to silver. The people of Georgia are not believers in a gold standard, and yet when some of the prominent party speakers insisted upon that view, as the only one which the party could possibly take, it caused defection among those who take no uncertain position on the Columbus Enquirer-Sun: Here in Muscogee county, is an illustration of the inroads made on the possible majority made by the stay-at-home democrats. The total vote yesterday shows that in round numbers 1,200 democrats, who were registered, failed to cast their votes, and such an average over the state would easily make up the majority which the party has heretofore given. There is much in the result for the serious consideration of democrats, and we apprehend that they will not be slow to ascertain the cause of the defection, and they will be wise if they apply the cure.

Rome Tribune: The democrats of Georgia were given something to think about yes terday if the official returns bear out the telegrams received. These dispatches state that Mr. Atkinson's majority will not be over 15,000, while Mr. Northen's two years ago was over 70,000. This would be more alarming if it represented that much gain for the populists, but it is a well-known fact that the greater portion of this slump is due to reasons entirely separate from an populistic tendencies

Macon Telegraph: One lesson which will compensate in some measure for the demo-cratic losses in Wednesday's election, is taught by the result of the late gubernatodal fight. That is, that in order to maintain undisputed democratic supremacy in this state, it is necessary that the demo-cratic pary should organize strongly and compactly in every county, in every militia district, so that effective work can be done on election day, and every democrat can be brought to the ballot box.

Savannah News: It is probable that the opulists have polled as large a vote in this tate as they ever will. With the increase of prosperity, populism will decline. thrives on hard times. It is gratifying that with so little friction.

GEORGIA PRESS PERSONALS.

Cartersville Signal: One of the most powerful of the democratic orators has not yet been called to the stump. We refer to Hon. Charles D. Hill. Probably no speaker in the state can command the same power of language, of wit, ridicule and satire, and none can match him in the marvelous store of information his memory keeps constantly at his call. We hope to hear from him before the campaign is over, and listen again as he demolishes with withering sarcasm the high flown periods or an opponent, or smooths out the tortured facts of an enemy. YOUNG BURGLAR WITH A BAD RECORD

Bave the Officers a Sharp Chase Last Night He Has Been Wanted for a Long Time-Six Cases Against Him.

Willte Jeffers will have cause to remember the day that made him thirteen years old. He is a newsboy with a pale face and rather pinched expression that makes him appear several years older.

He woke up early yesterday morning hap-py at the thought of increased age. He worked with more seal than usual and in a few hours had disposed of all his papers. Later in the day he was employed by another newsboy to take a satchel from the carshed to a residence on Capitol avenue, and it was the disappearance of this satchel which caused his arrest yesterday afternoon and brought his grief-stricken mother to the station house to entreat in his behalf.

According to the statement of the boy According to the statement of the noy at 10 o'clock yesterday morning he was approached by Tom Pashaw, another newsboy, who told him that he would give him a nickel to carry a satchel to 68 Capitol avenue. The satchel, the newsboy told him, was the property of a lady who had come in on the train.

He started out with the value and had passed the capitol, when a negro accosted him and offered to give him 5 cents for the privilege of taking the satchel to the house. The boy was tired. He had aiready been given 5 cents and another one added to this was as much as he expected to get, so he turned the satchel over to the negro This is the account given by the boy.

In the meantime the lady had arrived and was anxiously looking for the boy with her satchel. She waited until late in the afteron and still he failed to show up. Ther noon and still he tailed to show up. Inen the matter was placed in the hands of the detectives, resulting in the arrest of Willie Jeffers and Tom Pashaw.

Late in the afternoon the mother of Jeffers came to police station. She was very much affected and told to Chief Conolly in a pathetic way how the boy was her only support and how she had always tried to make him do right. It was her tiful appeal which caused the boys to be released until this morning. They claim that they can point out to Detective Bed-ford the negro who stole the satchel. Unless they do this, however, both boys will

The entire work in that beautiful edifice. The entire work, with the exception of the celling, is of marble, and, best of all, Georgia marble. It is a triumph of home industry. From the floor to the great slabs that join the ceiling, including all the delicately tinted cornice work, it is every inch a Georgia product, mined by Georgia labor, designed and constructed by Georgia intellect and Georgia handicraft. It is the work of Messrs. George B. Sickels & Co., of Tate, Pickens county, Georgia, owners and operators of one of the largest and most progressive of Georgia's marble works and whose products grace some of the most magnificent structures in this country. Right here in Atlanta the interior work of the here in Atlanta the interior work of the Equitable building is a monument to their resources and ability. Over $5,000 square feet of marble covers the ficoring, stairs. etc., all of which was furnished by Messrs.

That their fame is widespread is evidenced by the fact that they have made large shipments of floor tilling to Portland, Me., and other New England points, right through the very heart of what was, before the development of Georgia quarries, the most famous marble producing belt of the American continent; and, again, their product has found its way across the great central plains, pierced the Rockies and on the shores of the Pacific at Los Angeles adorns many of the public buildings of that city, so widely famed for the beauty of its architecture. A Delightful Reception to Pastor

Menschke and His Bride.

A large delegation from St. John's Lutheran church, this city, was at the union depot yesterday afternoon to meet the vestibuled train on the the Southern, on which the pastor of this church, with his newly made bride were passengers.

The pastor is Rev. Frederick Menschke, and he is a young man—not more than thirty. A few days ago he announced to his friends that he was going to Baltimore on a felightful mission, and yesterday afternoon he was given a magnificent reception on his return. Mr. Menschke was married Wednesday evening in Baltimore. The delegation which met the pastor and his bride escorted them to the elegant home of Mr. John Wolf, at Inman Park, where nearly the entire membership and congregation of St. John's had gathered. A delightful reception was given the pastor and his bride and a lunch was served.

Mr. Menschke and wife will make their home at 191 Whitehall street. The Baltimore American had this to say of the wedding: "Rev. Frederick Menschke, of Atlanta,"

It was stated yesterday by a prominent railroad man who is on the inside that there is certainly an effort being made by the authorities of certain railroad properties to get possession of the Atlanta and Florida railroad. It is said that the road will be the bone of contention between two well-known southern roads in the effort to secure a direct through line to Florida and south Georgia points.

It is not affirmed, nor is it yet denied, that the Marietta and North Geargia will endeavor to get the Atlanta and Florida, but it is thought that this is the intention of the man behind the Marietta and North Georgia.

There is so little in the way of the consolidation of the Marietta and North Georgia and the Atlanta and Florida that the story so often published to the effect that they will in time be joined in gaining ground every day, now that the Atlanta and Florida is once more placed in the hands of a receiver.

By constructing twenty miles of road hetween Atlanta and Marietta the two lines can be brought togethe, and on account of the directness of the route that they form it is highly probably that the efforts con-cerning the consolidation will prove to be something more than mere rumors. There is a great deal of speculation in this business on the part of local railroaders and the movements of the bondholders of both the Marietta and North Georgia and the Atlanta and Florida are being cautiously

STRUCK BY A CAR.

An Old Drayman Knocked from His Wagon and Painfully Injured. An electric car at 10 o'clock yesterday morning struck the wagon of Henry Grammet, an old negro drayman, on Peachtree street. The wagon was demolished, the mule injured and the old man painfully

It was a miraculous escape. The negro had driven on the asphalt and was making his way to the executive mansion. In front of him was another wagon, which he was following. The front wagon crossed the track and the old drayman crossed, too. He did not hear the car as it came rapidly towards him, and, after crossing the track, turned and started on the other side.

Motorman Flynn rang his gong loudly, but, the car was going at too swift a gait to Motorman right too swift a gait to stop. There was a crash as it collided with the wagon and the old man was thrown out. He was rolled some yards in front of the car, and it was thought by all that he would be killed. A crowd was passing and rushed to the place. The drayman and rushed to the place. The drayman was pulled out and the ambulance called. He was carried to the Grady hospital, where his wourds were dressed. Besides a disloca-tion of the right shoulder he received no other injuries. He was removed in the af-ternoon to his home on Fraser street.

local banks during the stringency in the summer of 1893.

While there were certificates to the amount of $600,000 printed, only $100,000 of them were put into circulation. Of this latter amount all but a few dollars have been returned to the various banks and were destroyed. There were present at the burning all the officers of the clearing house.

These certificates helped the people of Atlanta at a time when this city seemed to be about to suffer the same panic that attacked so many other towns in the United States. JUST HALF ENOUGH VOTES. The County Bonds Required Six Thou-sand Favorable Ballots.

sand Favorable Ballots.

The official vote on the jail bonds was furned into the comptroller's office yesterday, and it shows that there were only half enough votes to carry the bonds with.

There has been a general misunderstanding in regard to this election for jail bonds. The truth of the matter is that if every vote cast had been in favor of them they would have been defeated. The law is that two-thirds of the registered vote must be east in favor of the bonds in order to carry them. Wherever there was a failure to vote either for or against them.

There were 5,087 votes cast in the election, 3,392 of which were for the bonds.

Hr. Greenwall Completes His Southern Theatrical Circuit.

LEFT FOR HOME YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

He Talks of His New Plans, and Is Immensely Pleased with Atlants-Mr. Cox Returns with Him.

Mr. Henry Greenwall, who has recently loomed up as one of the most important figures in the southern theatrical world, was in Atlanta yesterday afternoon, having come up from Savannah, where he closed a deal on the day before by which the Savannah theater was added to his circuit. As Mr. Greenwall boarded the vestibuled train yesterday afternoon for his home in New Orleans he was smiling pleasantly over the result of his trip. He had completed his circuit.

With Mr. Greenwall were Mr. Frank Cox, the prominent architect and scene painter, of New Orleans, and Mr. Welss, a capitalist, of New York, who is largely interested in the new circuit of which Mr. Greenwall is the central movant.

Mr. Greenwall had the pleasure of feeling as he left the city yesterday afternoon that his visit had been a success in every particular, and he was particularly enthusiastic about the improvements which he is to make in the Edgewood avenue

"I am certainly pleased with what I have done," said he, "I get charge of the Savannah theater on the 1st of next May, and next season I will have a complete southern circuit, embracing Richmond, New Orleans, Atlanta, Memphis, Nashville and number of Texas cities. In the Lone Star State I have all the theaters I want. We will make a good thing of it, I feel confident.

"Mr. Cox will begin work right away or the plans for the improvements to be made or the new Edgewood theater. We will make it a magnificent affair and it will be a delightful show house,"

The new theater will be attractively fin-ished in white and gold. Mr. Cox, who is an excertionally talented architect, will put best efforts into the plans which he will draw for the new theater. Mr. Cox is also a painter of rare gifts and his hand painted the magnificent drop curtain at De-Give's Grand. He has a fine eye for artistic effects and this ability will make itself evident in the improvements that he will put on the new Edgewood. Mr. Greenwall seems to have unlimited capital at his command. Besides being a nan of splendid means he has a fine finan-al backing. Mr. Geenwall is a great believer in At lanta. He thinks this city has a great fu-ture and he is putting his money into the new theater with an abundance of faith He believes that Atlanta can support two theaters with great ease, and that neither will suffer. He points to Louisville, which has four, and which is known to theatrical people as a worse show town than Atlanta Mr. Herbert Mathews was with Mr. Greenwall yesterday afternoon and saw him off at the train. They talked over the plans for the new theater. Mr. Mathews will be Mr. Greenwall's manager and expects to bring a large number of first-class attractions here during the exposition.

SPIDERAND FLY" AT THE GRAND

The performance given by the "Spider and Fly" company at the Grand last hight was well received. The attendance alone might be taken as a compliment by any company, and the applause that greeted each turn of the play was a pleasing assurance to man ager and player as well.

The "Spider and Fly," as presented last night, is by no means the same play that has been seen on the Atlanta stage by that name many times before. The whole thing is an improvement. Among the specialties introduced is the array of "Living Pictures," which are in themselves a show. The effort on the part of the management in presenting these pictures is certainly most creditable, for it requires almost a carload of special scenery to produce them. The pictures, as presented, are after the celebrated paintings by Albert Operti. They

The work of the chorus throughout is fine and the songs and dances are clever and highly entertaining. Richard T. Brown, as William Shakespeare Pickles, an author in hard luck, is as clever as the summer day is bright. Florence Chace, as the Queen of the Mermaids, makes a hit with the audience and Anna Suits, as Lord Razzle Dazzle, is fetching in her songs, dances and tights.

James A. Klernan, as 'Enery, the valet, makes many hits throughout the play, and was a favorite last night. Prince Pharaob, the contortionist, is great, while Kelley and Ashby in their tumbling specialty are fully up to the times. There will be a matinee today.

"The Country Squire."

"The Country Squire."

"The Country Squire," with Archie Boyd as the star, who, it will be remembered, was the Joshua Whitcomb in "The Old Homestead" for the past four years, means a New England play and one of the best that has been given to this country for years, because it is real, is pictured with indelity to life, is a perfect reproduction of the manners and customs of rural life. The play comes to the Grand Monday and Tuesday. It bubbles over with the richest and purest of humor, at the same time works out a true story with a true pathos that sustains its interest to the close. It has been said for Mr. Boyd that he is the most real and natural actor who has ever attempted to delineate the village rustic, as his work with "The Old Homestead" is testimony. a New England play and one of the best as his work with testimony.

The play is elaborated by new and special scenery, being the exact pictures of the locality represented in the play. "You Youson."

"Yon Yonson" will be the attraction at the Grand Wednesday and Thursday next, and also at the Thursday matinee. This and also at the Thursday matinee. This play has attracted widespread attention because of the striking originality of the chief character, an Americanized Swedea quaint, imperturbable, phlegmatic yet manly fellow-capitally played by Gus Heege. The story tells of the career of a typical Swedish immigrant in the lumber camps of the northwest, and serves as a good vehicle for the comedy work of Heege, who is a clever comedian with a very mellow Swedish-American dialect.

ralued at not less than $10,000, barked away at a great rate at the union depot.

While they were in the city all the animals were taken out for a walk, and seemed to enjoy their momentary freedom with wonderful appreciation. The dogs are all from Pierre Lorillard's kennels in Stauton, Tenn., and were in charge of Keeper Levi Hunter, who draws a salary or $200 per year just to look after them.

The dogs left last night for High Point, N. C., where the field trial will occur in a few days. At High Point there will assemble a number of New York's blooded sports, who will be easer to back their animals with lots of cash. Mr. Lorillard is well known in sporting circles and the snut the. Nearly all of the animals here yesterday were English and Llewellyn setters. There was but one pointer in the lot.

THE TALK OF THE DAY.

"Let me congratulate you on your certain election as speaker of the next house," was the address of Dr. J. B. B. Holmes to Hon. William Fleming, of Richmond, yesterday, Both geqlemen met in the Kimball hotes, where they were soon surrounded by a host of friends. All day long Mr. Fleming was toasted by those who met him. Said Dr. Hollucs afterwards: "Instead on of the strongest mea in Georgia, He is one of the strongest men in Georgia. He is a hard student, is carnest in his advocacy of measures which he espousea, and is a man who is bound to grow with years. Fleming is one of those men whose power grows upon you imperceptibly, and in whom the people can always have implicit trust."

Judge Charles Bartlett, who is to represent the sixth congressional district in the next congress, was in the city yesterday. "I do not fear for my district in November," said he. "In fact, the close vote of Tuesday throughout the state will arouse the democracy to the necessity of action in November. Georgia is essentially democratic, and the apathy of the election will only be the signal for an immense turn out at the next." There will be no more popular nor earnest democrat in the next house than Charley Bartlett. He will be true to Georgia interests and Georgia people under all cirinterests and Georgia people under all cir

Hon. Carter Tate was interesting himself in the affairs of some of his constituents in the custom house yesterday. The watchword of this court is economy, and I intend to do my part toward it, if I have to work eighteen hours out of the twenty-four."

Governor Northen will begin the prepara-tion of his message to the legislature in a few days. He is now awaiting the messages rom the diffenet statehouse officers upon hich to base his remarks and suggestions. It is barely possible that he may find in the $40,000,000 decrease of tax values, in order to fit the property of the state inside the gold standard, one of the most potent ices which moved the people Wednesday.

Around the capitol there was an air of quietude vesterday, which indicated a prac tical cessation of business. Joe Terrell had just returned from Meriwether. "The white vote was all right," said he. "It was the colored vote that we lost, and that is where the change came in. Governor Atkinson's administration," said he, "will be cast upon lines which will restore the harmony of the people and show the colored people that they never had a better friend than he will be." In Comptroller Wright's office that official came to the conclusion that if must have been the loss of the colored vote. Counties from which total votes have been received, show that a full vote has been polled, and negatives the idea of a light vote having been polled. It was Secretary Candler's view that there was marked democratic absenteeism from the polls, and that to that cause must be ascribed the slump. Every one, however, had a different reason, and the only consolation was from one who said: "There's no use crying over what has passed. duty is to pull the party together again, and go to work for a solid democracy."

Judge Newsome-the immortal judge-ha announced himself as a candidate for door keeper of the house of representatives. His opponents will be Mr. Moses Martin, of Gwinnett, and Hon, E. P. Price, of Floyd,

Among the visitors to Atlanta are Judge James R. Brown and Solicitor General Brown, of Canton. Hon. Tom Hutcherson, member-elect from Cherokee, was with the

The defeat of the jail bonds in Fulton county calls to mind again the difficulty of bringing out a vote on such a question. The law is confusing, but no man is better able to bring certainty out of confu sion than Hon. Alex King, of the wellknown firm of King & Spalding. He explains the law and the way out thus:

"Under the constitution of the state, article 7, section 7, paragraph 1, in order for a county or city to issue bonds, two-thirds of the qualified voters thereof must vote in

"Where a registration is prescribed by law as the means for ascertaining who are such qualified voters, two-thirds of the voters registered must assent to the bond issue by voting therefor.

"The registration list then in force will be the list by which this fact is to be de-"The fact that two-thirds of the voters participating in the election vote for a bond issue will not carry it, unless the two-thirds voting in favor thereof equal two-thirds of the registered voters."

Mr. King then goes on to segest a way out of the difficulty of a large vote. 'Another registration will take place for general election of county officers in January, 1895. "If a new vote was had on the question of fail bonds at that election the registration for the county election would control "Under the law, in order to register for that election a citizen would have to pay his taxes for 1894, which are not in default his taxes for 1894, which are not in default until December 20th. A great many persons do not pay these taxes until after the January election. As all disputes over the county officers have been settled by the primary, there is never any great interest in it.

"For this reason the registration is usually light for this election, and it would require much fewer votes in tavor of an issue of jail bonds to carry them than at the last election.

"It is," continued Mr. King, "of great importance that a new jail be provided. Humanity requires it. If bonds for such a purpose are not speedily authorized, the county commissioners will be confronted with the necessity of providing for it from taxation, as the present ill-ventilated little affair, which was bullt when the county was of not one-half its present population or wealth, and when the demands on it were comparatively light, cannot serve the public necessity longer."

The grand jury of Fulton county will meet The grand jury of Futton county will meet in special session in the courthouse at 10 o'clock this morning. Colonel Albert Howell, with a large delegation of well-known gentlemen, will appear before that body to urge the necessity of providing for the walfs and juvenile offenders of Fulton county. The estabishment of a reformatory seems to them to be the only recourse left to the grand jury.

The Ladies Interested in the Grady Hospital Met Yesterday.

THE BRILLIANT CONCERT AT THE GRAND

signor Campobello Will Draw the Largest Audience of the Season-Every-body Is Interested.

No enterprise has ever drawn the ladies f Atlanta into closer harmony or promis greater results than the effort to establish a children's ward as an adjunct to the Grady hospital.

This was emphasized by the large attendance of ladies present at the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday morning There were fully as many as 250 on hand. It was the regular monthly meeting of the ladies' board and nothing but the general interest felt in the children's ward and the welfare of the hospital occasioned the large attendance. It shows the popular interest felt in the movement that an ordinary meeting should be so well attended.

In the absence of Mrs. S. M. Inman, who is on a visit to New York, the meeting was called to order by the vice president, Mrs. Hunter P. Cooper.

Mrs. Albert Thornton performed the duties of secretary.

In addition to the usual business pertain ing to the regular meeting of the board the approaching concert of Signor Campobello, assisted by the leading musicians of the city, was discussed. The proc. 4s arising from this concert will be applied to the fund for the erection of the children's and and the entertainment will be one of the most brilliant and notable attractions of the

At the meeting yesterday morning each lady was given a certain number of tickets to sell. From the brilliancy of the musica programme and the special efforts of the ladies to make the entertainment a success from a financial point of view, it is safe to predict for the concert the largest au-dience that has gathered in the grand opera louse since the celebrated engagement of Adaleni Patti.

Signor Campobello is a musical gentus of the rarest type and his reputation already extends throughout the length and breadth of the country. As a star of the first mag-nitude he will interest the large audience that will gather to hear him and will lift their appreciation into the highest pitch of enthusiasm. In addition to Professor Campo bello the leading musicians of the city will take a part in the council and a programme of varied brilliancy will be presented. Two subscriptions of $100 each were made

COTTON BUOYANT.

The Spot Demand Causes Merrousness Among the Bears.

SPOTS AND FUTURES HIGHER YESTERDAY

The Chicago Market Uninteresting—Corn Slightly Higher—Wheat Lower—Stocks Are Higher for the Railway List.

For the past two weeks the English spin ners have been taking cotton in Liverpool much beyond their daily requirements and the market for spots in consequence has had a hardening tendency, and for the past two or three days the price has been marked up 1-3d each day.

Last week the sales of spot cotton on that side amounted to 78,000, and this week the sales were increased to 88,000 bales.

The American spinner is not making anything like the scramble to purchase the raw material, as his English prother. If such was the case cotton would be much higher than current quotations.

The foreign demand has assumed such proportions that the shorts in the speculative market have become very nervous and have resorted to covering as a move of caution for fear that any day a demand from the American spinner will make its appearance in our markets.

Cotton yesterday was buoyant and ranged between 6.09 and 6.25 for January.

The speculative market opened unchanged to 3 points higher with a downward ten-dency until after the noon call, which was, for January delivery, about 10 points below the opening. Immediately afterwards a little feeling developed and prices forged upward at a rapid rate, the advance from the lowest amounting to 16 points. The close was steady at only a slight reaction from the highest, with sales at 194,400 bales.

Spots generally are higher, New York showing a gain of 1-166, Liverpool 1-3d, but Atlanta is unchanged at 511-16c.

The stock market was dull vesterday, but the closing quotations are, with the excep-tion of Chicago Gas and Louisville and Nashville, higher. The first named lost 1/2 per cent, while the decline in the former Chicago, Berlington and Quincy gained 1/2 per cent, St. Paul 1 per cent, Rock Island per cent and Missouri Pacific 1/2 per cent.

One of the largest stock operators says: "Outside of Sugar there has been compara-tively little demoralization in the market, much less than would have been anticipated. I attribute the entire weakness and the cessation of buying to the enormous drop in Sugar. It is still the pall over the market and professionals as well as outsiders deckne to buy much of anything so long as Sugar is so persistently sold. Nobody for a minute imagines that Sugar insiders failed to get out of the stock above par and the long stock which become took which the contracts of the stock above parts of the stock which is stock which the stock which is stock and the long stock which has come out re-cently certainly did not come from controlling interests. The sugar trade has warranted no such drop and insiders could have stopped it, even without buying stock, but their talk has certainly been favorable to the demoralization and what their object is nobody can tell, although it is supposed to be influence on congress. There can be nothing the matter financially with the Sugar company and the present dullness in the trade in ordinary times would have caused perhaps a five or six point break to be followed by a lively rally. But here you have had nearly 30 points net decline without a rally of any consequence. It looks to me as though the end was near and somewhere in the 70s, I think insiders will replace the stocks sold above par."

Corn and wheat were very active in Chicago. Corn, for December delivery, ended %c higher, while May closed unchanged at 50% bid. The same deliveries on wheat lost %c each, and May oats are %c lower.

Provisions are lower all along the line, January showing a loss of 15c and January lard and ribs 5 and 7½c, respectively.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Transactions Show a Falling Off, but the Railway List Improves.

NEW YORK, October 5.-There was a material falling off in the dealings at the stock exchange today, the transactions having amounted to only 160,045 shares, of which 37,000 were Sugar, 27,000 St. Paul, 22,600 Chicago Gas and 20,000 Burlington. The dealings lacked the excitement which has characterized the trading in Sugar and Chicago Ga of late, and the only feature of the speculation was the evident desire of the shorts to get back their contracts. The bears have been badly worsted in Chicago Gas, and as a result are less confident of their position in the other stocks, notably the Grangers in the other stocks, notably the Calages. The latter were in demand throughout and scored gains of %@1% per cent. St. Paul advanced 1% to 62%, hurlington and Quincy 11% to 74. Northwestern % to 103%. In the case of Burlington and Quincy it is currently reported that a weit-known Exchange Place bearhouse covered 5,000 shares of the stock on the way up. Rock Island, after an early decline to 53%, rose to 55%, and closed at the top figure. The foreigners changed front on the market, probably the result of subsidence of the war scare, and London took smail amounts of Louisville and Nashville and St. Paul. Among the high-priced issues, Lake Shore rose 1 to 136, Auams Express 4 to 150 and New Jersey Central 1% to 112% on limited trading. In the Industrials Chicago Gas and Sugar were stronger. Gas felt the influence of the truce just arrived at by the contending interests in Chicago, and the stock ranged between 73% and 75%, closing at 73%. Sugar sold at 84%@85%, and left off unchanged at 85%. Shrewd traders believe that strong parties are picking up the stock in the neighborhood of 85. Lead, Tobacco, Cotton Oil and General Electric were quiet and firm. The Gould properties, New York Central, Northern Pacific and Reading were in better demand. Louisville and Nashville was weaker, and at one time sold at 53%, but later there was a recovery to 54%. The market closed firm and % to 1% per cent higher.

The bond market was firmer.

Stevens & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

Stevens & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

By private wire to J. C. Knox, manager.

NEW YORK. October 5.—There was a good head of bullish steam on and the sales here today, gan up to 194,900. There was an early decline, but this was recovered and an advance of 7 to 9 points followed. The close was stready at a gain for the day of 3 to 4 points. The only disturbing feature was a rumor, afterwards denied, that the czar of Russia was dead, and some reaction from an early advan.e in Liverpool. There was reported a falure in Wall street, which had little effect. The strong points of the shuation were the moderate receipts and the excellent spot trade in Liverpool and the south. Unless the receipts increase it is contended that the 9,000,000 estimate on the crop will have to be abandoned. Mr. Hester's New Orleans figures say that the amount that came into sight this week of the 9,000,000 crop of 1891 was 337,000, whereas for the present week, according to New Orleans dispatches, it is probably 85,000 less. It is also argued that the interior receipts so far are slagularly small in view of the big crop estimates. Liverpool spot sales were 16,000 at a rise of 1-32d, making 78,000 in a few days. The south was buying here. Europe was inquiring for spot cotton, and there was less offering. It is stated that it is hard to buy cotton at the official prices quoted at some southern points. Cotton goods are stronger. The raw cotton has more friends. Cooler weather was predicted from some points in the south. Nashville reported a temperature of 46 and Little Rock 48. Some former bears of prominence turned bulls. One former bears of the Carol Thefollowing is the range of cotton interes in New York today:

NEW YORK. October 5.—Summary of Hubbard. Price & Co.'s cotton letter: Liverpool advanced this morning from 3-6id to 4-6id in response to our improvement of yesterday, but falled to maintain this improvement, closing steady at 1-6id advance from yesterday. Here the market openel steady at 2 to 3 points advance and sold off rapidly on the liquidation of the holdings of those who bought yesterday. All the cotton which was sold was absorbed by a prominent firm, which has lately been identified with the short side of the market. Their purchases yesterday and today are thought to be for account of a Colongo syndicate. The close of the market was tame at 5 points advance from yesterday. The market today has been rather puzzing to all concerned in the cotton trade, and its strength, in the face of the weak Liverpool and the large receipts, has been a feature which had not been counted upon.

NEW YORK, October 5.—(Special.)—The market fluctuated violently touay. In spite of a smart advance in Liverpool our opening was about yesterday's closing price, January selling at a.13. Then there was a sharp decline which was helped by a rumor of the death of the czar, and January sold down to 6.09. This was followed by a still sharper recovery, January advancing amid much excitement to 5.25, bid. In the last half hour prices became easier, and the close was steady with 6.25, bid for January. Everybody is puzzled as to the probable course of prices in the near future, though all agree that we are going to have a lively market with plenty of ups and downs. Comparative Cotton Statement.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

NEW YORK, October 5.—Cotton declined 8 to 9 points, recovered this and advanced about 4 points net for the day with sales of 194,900 bales. Liverpool advanced 1-23d on the spot and 4 to 4½ points for future delivery, closing steady with an advance on futures of 2½ points on futures, with spot sales of 15,000 bales, making 78,000 in the five days. In Manchester yarns and cloths were dearer and less active. British consols declined 3-16d. New Orleans at one time was 6 to 8 points lower, later it, recovered this and advanced 7 to 9 points, and still later on lost part of this. Spot cotton here was 1-18c higher. Savannah and Galveston advanced ½c and New Orleans and Memphis 1-16c.

Today's teatures—If receipts continue to fall as much below those of 1891 as they have of late it looks as though the 9,000,000 crop estimates would be tossed to the winds. Both at the ports and interior towns the receipts are below the marks, if estimates of a yield approximating the same 1c. that of 1891 are to be maintained. Today Liverpool was active and higher, and it retained part of the advance at the close. There was some reaction here, owing to a reaction in Liverpool and a report that the carr of Russia was dead. Warmer weather was predicted for some parts of the cotton belt, and there was some long liquidation and also some bear hammering. A rumored failure in Wall street also affected prices. The rumor in regard to the czar was denied, the crop movement proved to be moderate, there was a better demand from outsiders, former bears espoused the bull cause and bought freely, local shorts covered and Europe and the south sent buying orders. Cotton goods were strong, with a better demand. Silver was rising and there was less pressure to sell the actual cotton.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, October 5.—Through forwardings a very good sale of dry goods was reached, unledly of colored cettons, wide sheetings, spring clothing woolens, cotton fiannels, and more or less quantities of seasonable stuffs. Tickings and other colored cottons were in request for moderate to good supplies. There were no general markets, however, and new business was very irregular. Printing cloths were firm at 3 cents for sixty-four squares and sales for the week were about 350,000 pleces.

Prom The Wall Street Journal.

Very little Interest is manifested in the market today. The peremtory sale of silks is attracting a fair company of buyers, but prices are not far from list quetations. There will be a peremtory sale of dress goods tomorrow, and this corroborates our statement that the recent extensive sale of dress goods tomorrow, and this corroborates our statement that the recent extensive sale of the sale

The Mill Situation.
Fall River Special: It is now reported that the mills are likely to start up full within the next two weeks. Sales of print cloths reported thus far aggregate 123,000 pieces, which leaves the stock at 135,000 pieces. Both sellers and buyers are indifferent, and the market is very quiet at 2%c for "extras" as the basis.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, October 5.—Traders found much difficulty in following the erratic changes in wheat today. The action was nervous and irregular, but the final tone was weak at almost the extreme low point. The feature of the session may be said to have been the quick bulge that followed an uncorfirmed rumor of the death of the casar of Russia. When it was found that there was no foundation for the report beyond the fact that his condition was dangerous, the market declined with as much promptness as it had advanced. There was numerous spurts of activity and strength each followed by free selling and consequent breaks. December wheat opened at 54%65%, sold between 54%65% cand 53%c, closing at 53%653%—%c per bushel higher.

Corn participated in the irregular course marked out by wheat, but was enabled to preserve a 16 i depressed feeling than that grain presented at the close, by the decided improvement of the cash market. The opening was firm with some of yesterday's bull feeling still prevailing. There was free selling later with an advance on the rumor mentioned as influencing wheat. The close was easier with May unchanged from yesterday. May corn opened from 51%651%c, sold at 51%c, cash corn was 1%62c higher than yesterday with an excellent demand for car lots, which was bringing a premium over October.

Oats—There was nothing startling to the trade in this grain. The advances and recessions of wheat and corn were faithfully followed, the close being at a decline of 1%c from yesterday for May. Cash oats were strong and %c per bushel higher than yesterday. Provisions were still laboring under the disadvantage of a weak cash demand. A strong and ½c per bushel higher than yesterday.

Provisions were still laboring under the disadvantage of a weak cash demand. A lower hog market caused further depression. The business was not heavy, but the disposition to sell was more consoleuous than the desire to buy. The final drop in grain induced additional weakness, accompanied by a decline. The close was 15c lower than yesterday for January pork, 5c lower for January lard and 7½@10c lower for January ribs.

Lamson Bros. & Co's. Grain Lefter. CHICAGO, October 5.—Wheat opened firm, with a bullish sentiment. Liverpool showed marked responses to our strength here yesterday. Primary receipts of 723,000 bushels are again under last year's. The shorts have largely covered, many taking the lung side. Export clearances are disappointing and are but 230,000 bushels of wheat and flour. There were some realizations at the advance to 51% for December, scattered early buyers taking profits, which proved almost too much for the market, and prices receded %c, but quickly recovered on a report of the death of the czar of and prices receded %c, but quickly recovered on a report of the death of the czar of Russia, which was not authentic. Consols are again quoted lower. Trade was fairly larger, the market nervous and broke toways the close on the fallure of Coffin & Stanton, New York bond dealers, and the final quotations were at near the low point. Corn—With the good cash demand and the report that 75,000 of yesterday's takings were for export, near-by futures were soon bid up &c from yesterday's close. Local receipts aggregate but $2 cars. There was fair buying for outside account, and with a continued good demand for cash, 100,000 bushels already worked, the market was held firm up to the break in wheat, then corn eased off to 50%c for May.

Oats were firm at a shade over yesterday's close. Trade was fairly large, with outsiders buying. Local traders not so barrish. Receipts of 159 cars were fully up to the estimate. The closing was easy.

Provisions opened weak and lower. There was no support to the market. Packers expected the trade to buy, but the demand falled to materialize, the close showing a loss of 5015c.

Messrs. Dan Talmage's Sons, New York,

"In regard to the rice market wou'd say that high average range of prices still prevalls and the outcome is most encouraging for the producer, as all arriving parcels of-fered at current rates find ready sale. The crop is being forwarded just right, i. e., with deliberation, and so far as we learn, satisfactory prices generally secured. This certainly is the way to do it, and if planters are able to maintain such policy good fair values will be assured. The expected arrival of new crop has checked imports of for-eign, and while they will undoubtedly con-tinue, the volume is likely to be limited eigh, and white they will undoubtedly continue, the volume is likely to be limitedand they, therefore, not nearly so much of a competitor with home rice as heretofore.
Another encouraging feature is that the war in the east between Japan and Corea has raised prices in the far east, and it would not surprise us to see them advance still further. Corea generally exports a considerable quantity of rice, but as the seat of war is located in the rice producing sections the culture has been generally abandened and they will, therefore, have to buy from other countries, which has already had its due effect upon prices as noted.
Japan, which is the foreign style most largely used in the United States, is just now out of reach, but will probably come down somewhat with the incoming of their new crop in November and December, ordinarily received here about February and March. The time we speak of is the usual harvesting period, but the scarcity of labor is likely to cause delay, thus injuring qualitiv and to some extent reducing the quantity.

Mr. J. H. Goldsmith is the nominee of the democratic party of Atlanta for city That was the decision of the special committee selected by Mr. Goldsmith and Mr.

Holliday to make a recount of the vote of the second ward. The recount was made yesterday afternoon in the council chamber at the city hall and the work was watched not only by the contestants, but by quite a number of the warmest and most devoted friends of the two gentlemen. At 2 o'clock the ballot box containing the vote of the second ward was brought into the council chamber by Mr. Walsh, Mr. Bacon and Mr. Mathews, who had been mong the managers in that ward. Mr. Goldsmith and Mr. Holliday were both present when the box was placed upon the city clerk's table and around the railing a large number of interested friends were gathered. After the box was placed upon the table Mr. James Walsh, Mr. S. W. Bacon, Mr. J. H. Mathews, Mr. J. N.

around it for the purpose of inspecting its "Shall I open the box?" asked Mr. Mathews when everything was in readiness for the work.

Moody and Mr. J. W. Goldsmith gathered

"Yes, open it," responded two of the other inspectors in a breath. The box was opened and the ballots were turned out upon the table. Then two large baskets were placed in chairs near the Mr. Mathews picked up a handful of tickets and Mr. Walsh did the same. Both gentlemen commenced separating the tickets, placing those for Mr. Goldsmith in one pile and those for Mr. Holliday in another pile. Two tellers or counters were seated at a table near by and as twenty-five tickets were bundled together for either one or the other of the gentlemen they were rcorded by the tellers. Then the bunches of twenty-five were passed over to a desk, which Mr. Goldsmith and Mr. Holliday sat side by side, and under their scrutiny they went. In this way the count continued un-til the last batch of tickets was passed upon and then the tellers were asked for "My count," said the teller selected by

Mr. Goldsmith, "shows Goldsmith 507 and Holliday 540 votes."
"And yours?" asked one of the managers pointing to the other clerk.

"That's the way mine reads," was the answer of the gentleman who had been selected by the Holliday faction.

That count gave Mr. Goldsmith an increase of twenty-one votes in the ward, and of course increased his majority in the city just that much. In the count as the ward was recorded in the consolidation Mr. Goldsmith was defeated in the ward fifty-four votes, Mr. Holliday's vote being recorded in that consolidation at 540 and that of Mr. Goldsmith at 486. The recount did not change Mr. Holliday's vote one way or the other, but it added twenty-one votes to Mr. Goldsmith's minority in that ward and increased his majority in the city from The Recount.

In the entire city Mr. Goldsmith's vote in the consolidation made by the city ex-ecutive committee Thursday night was 2,466, while that of Mr. Holliday was 2,411. The recount added twenty-one to Mr. Goldsmith, making his total 2,487.

The gentlemen who had charge of the work of recounting lost no time, but went through the tickets rapidly and accurately. erest by the friends of the two candidates who were present, and it was not until the count had been completed that the result was announced to those around. Still it was generally known before the re-count was completed that Mr. Goldsmith's vote was increasing, while that of Mr. Holliday's was not changing. This aroused the interest in the work, and that interest increased as the work progressed. Among the gentlemen doing the work the best of feeling was apparent and it was with something like a good relish the managers who had had charge of it went at it. Immediately after the work was completed and the result was announced to those in the council chamber Mr. Holliday grasped Mr.

Goldsmith by the hand saying:
"John, you have my warmest and most sincere congratulations. I naturally wish that it had gone the other way and when I asked for this recount I had many reasons, as I thought, to think it had gone that way. But I am now thoroughly satisfied and no one can wish you good success more heartily than I. In asking for the recount I was actuated only by a right I had, and when I asked it I thought I had good grounds for doing so.".

Of course Mr. Goldsmith and his friends were delighted over the result of the recount and on-all hands he was congratulated by those who heard the result. But none of the good wishes which were extended Mr. Goldsmith were received with more pleasure than those extended by Mr. Hol-liday, who had given him such a close shave for the place.

Just before the committee and the managers had completed their work Mr.

Mathews, one of the managers, was handed a note. He glanced at the paper and some-thing like a look of deep study came over his face. He looked at the note again and then turning to the other managers re-marked:

"Here is a note from Captain W. D. Ellis, chairman of the city executive committee, asking that the ballots in this ward be put in the box and sealed up and that the box be placed in a safe vault subject to the demands of the executive commit-

So it was that after the election the votes were all put back in the box and the box was taken in charge by the managers, who carried out the wishes of the chairman of the city executive committee The Managers Write.

Immediately after the recount was completed Messrs. Mathews and Bacon, two of the managers, addressed a communication to Captain W. D. Ellis, chairman of the city executive committee, narrating the work they had done. In the letter the

the work they had done. In the letter the gentlemen said:

"Atlanta, Ga., October 5, 1894.—W.D. Ellis, Chairman City Executive Committee, City—Dear Sir: Pursuant to the action of the committee on yesterday evening, the managers of the primary election in the second ward proceeded to have a recount of the ballot in that ward, in so far as it affected the contest between Messrs. Holliday and Goldsmith for the office of comptroller.

"This recount was made in the effect of the contest between Messrs."

day and Goldsmith for the office of comptroller.

"This recount was made in the presence of witnesses and with the assistance of Messrs. Goldsmith and Holliday in person, the recount was verified. Upon this recount it is shown that Mr. Holliday received 540 votes, being the same number reported for him in our official return of yesterday evening. The recount today shows a vote of 507 in favor of Mr. Goldsmith, which is an increase of twenty-one votes over the number officially reported. The tally sheets were correct and showed that Mr. Goldsmith was entitled to 507 votes, but there was a mistake in aggregating his votes, and an omission of twenty-one occurred. It will be observed that the result of this recount increases the majority of Mr. Goldsmith, and does not affect the result as declared by the committee. Respectfully, "J. H. MATHEWS," "S. W. BACON, "Managers."

After the recount had been completed

After the recount had been completed Mr. Holliday, surrounded by several of his friends, remarked:

"Well, that settles it, and I have no room to complain about it. I have been fairly beaten and Mr. Goldsmith is elected. I wanted the fifth ward recounted, and think maybe it would have made some changes but the committee saw proper not to grant it, and I reckon it was for the best. When I made those charges I had many reasons to think there was something in them else I would not have made them. I must confess that I was somewhat surprised at the changes made in the second and the way they were made.

Mr. Holliday's Card. Mr. Holliday sent in the following card, asking for its publication:

Mr. Holliday sent in the following card, asking for its publication:

"Editor Constitution—It seems that I was misunderstood by some when I asked for a recount of the comptroller vote in the second and fifth wards, and in order to set myself right will ask you to say that my reason for doing so was that I had been informed that a mistake might have happened in the second owing to the fact that several changes were made in clerks. It was currently reported that the clerks in the fifth ward had been drinking. There are dozens of people who heard this rume. I did not accuse anybody of any intentional wrong, nor did I even suspect such. I only thought that owing to the small majority, a recount might change the result. My suspidion of an error was not without foundation, which is shown by the fact that Mr. Goldsmith gained twenty-one votes on the second count. I am now entirely satisfied, and congratulate Mr. Goldsmith on his victory. I have the kindest feeling towards everybody, and am very grateful to all who gave me their support, and especially to those who worked so hard to secure my election. Respectfully, GEORGEH. HOLLIDAY."

May Recount the Sixth. Just what result the error found in the second ward will have on the primary is not known, but there are indications that it will lead to a recount of at least one more ward and maybe the vote of the entire city.

The closeness of the race between Captain Mayes and Mr. Sims, of the fifth ward, has created quite a dissatisfaction among the friends of the two candidates and a re-count in that ward may be looked for. In fact, steps looking to a re-count have already been taken and it is more than likely the Captain Eills, as chairman of the city executive committee. will order one before tonight. In some way a petition addressed to the captain, as chairman of the committee was sprung yesterday and circulated among the members of the committee asking for a recount in that ward. The paper was signed by a majority of the committee and some time today Captain Ellis will give an official answer to the paper. Should the recount in the fifth be ordered there is no telling where it will stop.

Then it is more than likely that the Mayes-Sims vote in the second will be recounted. Mr. Sims's majority in the entire city over Captain Mayes was only 27, and if a mistake of 21 was found in Mr. Gold-smith's favor in the second something might pull a change for Mr. Mayes. Those inter-ested in the matter say if 21 votes were lost sight of in the second for Mr. Goldsmith that candidates on the same ticket may not have been recorded on the tally sheet, or if recorded on that sheet may have been lost in the addition in the same way. It is upon such statements as these that they are anxious to see the vote for Mayes and Sims anxious to see the voice for shayes and Sims recounted in that ward. But if the recount were ordered and Mr. Mayes were given as many votes as Mr. Goldsmith gained he would not have enough to elect him.

That the people generally are dissatisfied with the way the count progressed in the fifth ward there is no doubt and the petition the members of the city executive committee have signed for a recent characteristics. mittee have signed for a recount shows that at least the members of the committee who signed the paper concur with them.

Mr. McDaniel's Claim.

Then Mr. Henry McDaniel, who made the race for city engineer against Mr. Bob Clayton, will this morning file with Captain Ellis a formal demand for a recount for that position. Mr. McDaniel, in talking about the matter to his friends asserts that he was flim-flammed on the day of the election, and in his letter will lay down the specifications

m his letter will lay down the special actions very plainly.

"You see," says Mr. McDaniel in talking of the matter and outlining his grounds of complaint, "there were two Claytons in the race. One, Bob Clayton, was running for city engineer against me, and the other. Tom Clayton, was running for city sexton. I have every reason to believe, and I think I can prove it, that the vote of the two Claytons was counted against me and in that way I was beaten. I am sure that I can satisfy the members of the city executive committee that I am right about that." Mr. McDaniel speaks most positively about the matter and says that he will carry his contest before the city executive committee and that if he cannot secure the proper and that if he cannot secure the proper redress there he will take it into the courts. In the fifth ward dissafts action neither Mr. Sims nor Captain Mayes is moving, but the work is being pushed by the friends of the captain, and if the box is opened and an error should be found in it, there is every reason to believe that every box in the city will be opened for a recount. A recount of the entire city, however, could make no change in the result unless it would affect the race between Mr. Sims and Mr. Mayes.

What Captain Brotherton Says.

What Captain Brotherton Says. Captain Brotherton, when he was informed that an attempt was afoot to have the vote of the city recounted, remarked:

"I don't see how that can be done. All of the boxes except in the second ward have passed out of the hands of the managers and no one can tell what has taken place since they were closed up that night when the count was completed. It certainly would not do now to open those boxes and count those votes expecting to find them correct. The second ward box is, as I uncorrect. The second ward box is, as I understand it, the only one which has not passed out of the hands of the managers."

The criticism which has been heaped upon the managers and clerks in the fifth ward, and there has been lots of it, has aroused the gentlemen who have been assailed and they are now asking for innings. The people all over the city have been of the opinion that the count in that ward, where less than 800 votes were polled could have been finished at least as ed, could have been finished at least as soon as the count of over a thousand in the sixth ward. The delay in the count made those interested impatient, and the more impatient they became the more they were disposed to kick. Finally patience was wholly exhausted and then the insinuations, and ultimately the charges, were made that drunkenness was the cause of the delay. But among those who knew Mr. Stark and Mr. Ivey these charges were not entertained for a mo-ment. Both gentlemen have been residents of Atlanta for many years and both have built up a character for honesty and good citizenship which was a refutation of the charges where the two gentlemen do not relish the charges, and during the day yesterday many of their friends who were on the grounds and had occasion to see the situation, drew up a card, and last night asked The Constitution to print it. The card reads:

night asked The Constitution to print it. The card reads:

"Atlanta, Ga., October 5, 1894.—Editor Constitution: It is with regret and indignation that we note the charges of irregularity and drunkenness preferred by a few against the managers and clerks of the fifth ward in the recent primary. We, the undersigned, being personally acquainted with Messrs. B. S. Ivy, R. J. Rice, J. H. Stark, J. S. Hall, E. L. Humphreys and F. A. Ingram, and having known them for years to be infonorable, sober and upright citizens, feel it our privilege and duty to express our indignation and contempt at the action of those who have taken this discreditable method to vent the sting of their disappointment. We know these gentlemen to be above reproach and dishonor, and we attribute this false rumor to those whose chances seemed unpropitious, and who, in their frenzy, did not realize the impropriety of such expressions. We believe the conduct at the box was gentlemanly and unimpeachable, and the count fair and honest; and we further believe that this card will have the endorsement of thousands of Atlanta's good citizens. When it comes to pass that the honor of our best citizens is to be impeached; when men whose lives have always been a credit to their communities and who have always had the strongest confidence of their friends, should be so slandered, it is the duty of every honorable man to publicly protest against such outrageous charges.

"Atlanta, Ga., October 5, 1894.—Editor Constitution: I wish to correct an error in regard to my position at the meeting of the executive committee last night in regard to recounting the vote in the second ward for comptroller. I was not opposed to the recount, but exactly the contrary. I seconded Mr. Rosser's motion for a recount, and spoke briefly, but earnestly, giving two reasons for making another count. One was because it was right in and of itself; the other was because the managers were there presen and demanding it for their own protection and vindication.

"I beg space in your columns to make this correction, because I do not wish to go on record as in favor of anything else but what is open, just and fair. I think both sides in every election ought to have an equal showing and means of knowing that the election was free from irregularity or mistake of any kind. ### A Large Number of Criminal Cases Disposed of Yesterday.

THE CASE OF BLALOCK IS SETTLED

'It Has Been Pending for a Number of Years-Other Cas & Tried Belore Judge Newman.

The indictments on nearly a dozen counts which have been long pending in the United States court against Calvin C. Blalock, a government distiller of White county, were disposed of by Judge Newman yesterday

The case came up for trial on the most serious of the several charges and the hearing of the case occupied several hours and was quite intricate.

Bialock stands very well in his community in White county. He is a justice of the peace and owns some property. Five years, ago he embarked in the business of a distiller and bought an extensive outfit. In the accustomed way he notified the government of what he was doing and an officer was sent down to make the usual preparations for the opening of the distillery.

The officer found everything in good shape and so reported to his superior officers and to Blalock. It was not long, however, before irregularities in Blalock's management of the enterprise were hint-

A complete inspection of his methods of business were made, and it was discovered by the officers that Blalock had been deceiving them. Although he was running under the cover and protection of the law, the officers claim that they discovered that Blalock was daily violating the revenue provisions, and was surreptitiously removing whisky and putting it on the market without paying the prescribed tax.

They claim that in this way he smuggled a considerable quantity of blockade booze through without paying the revenue tax and was in a fair way to make a fortune out of the business when they discovered what was going on.

Indictments on a number of counts were found, and Blalock was arrested. As he stood very well he had no trouble in giving bond, and up to yesterday he had succeeded in having the case kept from trial. It was pushed forward yesterday, how-

He was tried on one of the counts yester-day morning and given a sentence of six months in jall and a fine of $000 and costs additional. He will have to spend the half year in jail and at the end of that time pay the fine or take the pauper's oath. The case excited unusual interest in the court

He Was Rather Swell.

A moonshiner wearing patent leather shoes and white duck pants is something of a rarity. A handsome well-dressed young man with these adjuncts of a gentleman's dress, appeared before Commissioner Nash Broyles yesterday morning. He answered to the name of Joseph Tuggle, and Commissioner Broyles are Tuggle, and Commissioner Broyles was plainly astonished when the young fellow was brought in by a martial on a warrant charging him with making whisky. He was unlike any moonshiner that had ever been carried before the commissioner and the young fellow seemed to feel the incon-"Do I look like a moonshiner?" he asked,

"I guess not. These fellows are away off."
Despite appearances the deputy marshals made out a pretty strong case against the young man and he was sent to jail. Tuggle was arrested in a quiet and remote cor ner of Heard county. He stated that his home was in Carroll county and that he

At the same time that Tuggle was bound over Frank Huffman, also of Heard county, not Huffman's first time by any means. He has been before Commissioner Broyles three times since June 1st. -Al Marshall's team won the second game of ball yesterday from the Fort Mcgame of ball yesterday from the Fort McPherson nine by a score of 15 to 5. The battery for Atlanta was Lawshe and Stone and for the McPherson nine Humphries, Kenny and Miller. Up to the fourth inning the score was 1 to 0 in favor of the soldiers, but they went to pieces in that inning and the Atlanta boys went ahead.
Marshall's team put up a good fielding game, but the game was won by Lawshe's pitching and his batting. He made two home runs. The soldiers all hit hard, but couldn't place the ball safely. There will couldn't place the ball safely. There will be another game next week, and as the sol-dlers expect new men the score will be

-Two runs were made by the fire de partment yesterday; one early in the morning and the other at high noon. At 6 o'clock there was an alarm turned in from box 52. The department responded promptly but the blaze was out before they could reach it. It was caused by an explosion at the gas works. If it had secured any head-way it might have proved dangerous. The second alarm was from box 23. The fire was in the roof of the residence of Thomas O. Jones, and it was burned completely off. the house is owned by Simmons & Corr gan. The damage was small.

—Justice Orr disposed of a damage suit afternoon. Moses Brogden was the owner of a mule some weeks ago; yesterday he went before Justice Orr, accompanied by his attorney, and endeavored to make the justice see that the city should pay him for the mule. It seems that the mule walked into an old well and came out in a very exhausted condition, dying later from the effects of the fall. It was on private property that the fall occurred and Justice Orr decided that Brogden had no ground of action.

-Mr. Henry Saloshin left last night for Louisville, Ky., where he goes to attend the international convention of the Typo-graphical Union. He goes as the delegate from the Atlanta Union, and will take a close interest in the proceedings of the body. The convention will be in session one week. When it adjourns he will go to Cincinnati for a week. Mr. Saloshin is connected with The Constitution's composing room, and is one of the most expert printers in the country.

-Colonel J. N. Bateman presided yesterday in the suit of Lofton against Pinion as judge pro hac vice, Judge Lumpkin being disqualified. A bond for title was involved, and there was considerable discussion as to payments made on the property. One of the attorneys representing Lofton was Mr. Hugh Dorsey, son of Judge Rufus Dorsey. He has been but recently admitted to the bar, but he handled the cross ex minations for the plaintiff in admirable

-- Hon. A. O. Blalock, ex-senator from the twenty-sixth district, but who was a candidate for representative from Fayette county, was in the city yesterday. The returns spow that Mr. Blalock was defeated by twenty-seven majority by W. M. Cook, populist. Mr. Blalock says there were irregularities in the election and it is possible that there will be a contest.

—Tom Powell, notorious in criminal cir-cles, was in Judge Westmoreland's court yesterday in the role of defendant. He had several cases against him. He was con-victed for stealing shoes in one instance, and pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing in another. He was fined $50 and costs in one case and $25 and costs in another. Powell has been connected with several robberies and has been in jail several times.

—There was an important meeting of the executive committee of the Cotton States and International exposition yesterday. Rules governing exhibitors and officers of the exposition were adopted. Later these will be compiled and published in pamphlet form and distributed among those for whom they were intended.

—A number of prominent Georgia poli-ticians were at the Kimbali yesterday, among them were Messrs. A. O. Bacon, W. H. Fleming, Fleming duBignon, George Brown, Howard Thompson, Walter Brant-ley, Usher Thomasson and W. A. Brough-Mr. Bacon went to Macon last night and Mr. Fleming to Augusta.

-Mr. Ed Calloway, of the Kimball house, returned yesterday from a three weeks' vacation. While gone he visited his old home at Forsyth, Ga., going from there to Chicago. He spent several days in the Windy City. He visited the scene of the world's fair. --- The meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association tomorrow afternoon will be addressed by Rev. R. V. Atkisson, pastor of the Central Congregational church. He is an able speaker and will doubtless draw a large crowd.

—Suit was filed yesterday in the clerk's office by Mr. S. J. Hall as attorney for James Reeves. Reeves is suing the city for $1,890 damages on account of some property. He claims that that is the amount in which he has been damaged and :4ks that the city relmburse him.

-True bills were found yesterday by th federal grand jury against the assailants of Will Roper, Messrs. W. R. Morrison, A. P. Duncan, J. W. Reed, J. T. Morrison and J. M. Morrison. The cases will probably be tried week after next.

-Judge Gober spent yesterday in Atlanta. It has been printed in some of the papers of the state that Judge Gober would be a candidate for Judge Simmons's seat on the supreme bench. That is not the case. Judge Gober will not oppose Judge Simmons.

—Frank M. Kennedy, a white man, was tried and convicted of illicit distilling in the United States court yesterday morning. He was given one month. W. A. Maclelian was acquitted of the same charge.

-The infant child of Chief of Detectives Wright was interred in Westview cemetery at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. A large number of friends attended the inneral. -Hon. Charles L. Bartlett, the next congressman from the sixth district, was in Atlanta yesterday. He is pleased with the

Mrs. E. M. McCarthy and Miss Katle McCarthy returned yesterday morning after an extended trip of several months in Colorado. They will be the guests of Mrs. E. G. McCabe for a few days, before going to their new home, 815 Peachtree. Miss Mary Bridges, one of Atlanta's most atractive young ladies, left yesterday for Athens, where she goes to attend the mar-riage of Mr. Rutherford Lipscomb and Miss Maggie Talmadge.

On Monday last, Miss Hattie Hanvey, of Atlanta, and Mr. M. A. Dockins, of Walhalla, S. C., were united in marriage at the Moutain View hotel, Clarkesville, Ga., Rev. Mr. Vanhoose officiating, Quite a number of friends and relatives were present. The groom is well and favorably known in that section, while the bride has many friends in this city.

traits as those of a young actress, of whom the world already knows much, and is des-tined to know more. The lady, Miss Ellen Vockey, was born in Baltimore, graduated in music from the Peacody institute of that city, and finished her musical education at Leipsic, in Germany. Even in childhood she gave evidence of possessing the dra-matic instinct. Her earliest professional appearances were on the German stage, as "Mary Stuart" and "Jane Eyre," in this country as "Juliet. "Parthenia" and "Lady Teazle"—with marked success. As a dramatic reader, she has won high praise, having given selections from Schiller and Goethe before the German court. During the world's fair in Chicago, she created a sensation in performances in the woman's building, and also at the Calumet theater. Since then she has repeated her success in New York and elsewhere. In Washington, where she resides, Miss Vockey is a great favorite, being as charitable as she is tal-ented. Gentlemen: I beg leave to inform you that I have used your Paskola, and find it an excellent thing as a flesh and strength producer. I heard of it through a friend, and also from my brother, who is painter. Both recommended me to try it, and I did so. As my work is hard and exhausting, I often felt faint after a per-formance. Indeed, half the time I had no appetite, but since I began the use of Paskola I have a lovely appetite and have gained flesh. It is an excellent starchy food, and the stomach absorbs it easily. I can only speak of it in the highest terms, and shall continue its use during the hot weather. I recommend it to the profession, for use both before and after a performance. I hope what I here say may induce other weak and nervous women to try Paskola. Yours truly, ELLEN VOCKEY.

A reporter recently called on Sergeant Elias B. Dunn, New York's weather prophet, to talk with him about the matter. He was found in his office, looking exceedingly well. In response, to an inquiry he ingly well. In response to an inquiry he said: "I have used the pre-digested food, Paskola, myself, and in my family, and I must say that I have found it just what is claimed for it. In fact, I have been chanting the praises of it very steadily ever since I first began to use it. Why shouldn't I? It has built me up and made a new man of me. You see how fresh and rosy I am, and I intend to keep so.

All brain workers-actors, lawyers, doc-tors, inventors, artists, clergymen, authors, editors, merchants, financiers, etc., are almost certain to suffer from indigestion and dyspepsia, with its attendant nervous prostration. They become anaemic and weak. Lacking necessary nourishment, body and mind run down together. Drugs do no good. At best drugs in such cases are pokers to stir the dying embers. W wanted is more fuel; that is, food which the system can receive and assimilate without taxing the digestive organs.

Such a food (and the only one in existence, is Paskola. Being pre-digested, it spares the stomach the labor imposed by ordinary food, enters the blood and is at once taken up by the hungry and needy body. It virtually rests the stomach. That is both science and sense.

People who were wan, tired, feeble, low-spirited, dyspepsia-cursed and consumptive, write us daily from Maine to Mexico, saying they are getting fat and hearty on Paskola, after a weary and useless dosing with drugs and cod liver oil. And with reason. Paskola stands for the true theory-the right practice.

Send your name to The Pre-Digested Food Company, 30 Reade street, New York, and they will send free an interesting pam-phlet on Food and Digestion.

The personnel of the commission is of the highest. Among its members are some of the best known officials of the government, most of them men who have had experience in exposition work and who, therefore, are especially fitted to the par-ticular duties which have been assigned to them by this appointment. With the exception of Mr. Kemper and Major Barry, of the war department, the members who have been appointed have had experience in exposition work. Professors Goode, of the Smithsonian institute, and Professor Bean, of the fish commission, have served on more exposition boards than any other two men in the country and their services will be of especial value to Atlanta and its big show.

It is a fact worthy of note that several of the members are southerners. They have evinced especial interest in their work on that account and will give their hearty co-operation in every possible way-as, in

WEATHER FORECAST RND SYNOPSIS

The mean temperature yesterday in Atlanta was 60 degrees, which was 7 degrees below the normal, and it was the coolest day so far this fall. The temperature for the past several days has been growing cooler all over the country. In the northwest and west it has been quite cold, especially the nights, and frosts have been common in those sections the past few mornings.

There is an area of high pressure central in the west and northwest, which is likely to cause the present good weather to continue for a day or two, and the temperature will remain about stationary.

Light rains fell yesterday throughout the lake region, and a few scattered showers fell in Kansas and Florida; elsewhere it was generally clear and dry.

AND PRESIDENT COOK!

President of the National Teachers' Association---Paine's Celery Compound.

E. H. Cook, A. M., Ph. D., ex-head master of the Rutgers college preparatory school, New Brunswick. N. J., and president of the national educational association, graduated at Bowdoin in 1866. He or-ganized the West Chester, Penn., state normal school, and was the first principal; was principal of the Columbus, O., high school. From 1884 to 1889 he was principal of the normal school at Potsdam, N. Y., spending $80,000 in the erection of new buildings and renovation of old.

Says The Journal of Education: Mr. Cook is widely known and highly appreciated for the genuine boom that every institution with which he has been connected has enjoyed, and from the prominence given him by the state associations of Ohio, New from by the state associations of College and New Jersey. He has the tact to take advantage of circumstances, the ability to decide promptly, and the energy to execute. He has accomplished enough to satisfy any man's professional ambition, and yet the best work and highest honors ought to be ahead of him.

Paine's celery compound has made him

As it has made thousands of others well. Professor Cook is one of the editors of The Educational Review. He knows just what the English language means. Here is what he writes:

"Last winter I had a severe attack of the grip, which was followed by complete nervous prostration. I lost forty pounds of flesh in as many duys. After trying change of climate and various remedies without any apparent benefit, at the sug-gestion of a friend I began to take Paine's celery compound. Its effect was very marcelery compound. Its effect was very marvelous. My apprette returned, my digestion was improved, and I began to sleep regularly, which I had not done for weeks. I am still taking the compound, but regard myself as a well man. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and they are all lend in its praise." loud in its praise. Can anything be plainer?

Paine's celery compound makes people well. Just try it.

The National Farmers' Convention to Meet Here Next Year.

HUNDREDS OF FARMERS WILL COME

A Telegram from Secretary Whidby Announces the Decision of the Convention to Meet in Atlanta.

The farmers' national congress will hold its next annual convention in Atlanta. It will bring to the city about two thousand of the best and most representative farmers in the United States.

The congress has been in session at Parkersburg, W. Va., for three days past and a telegram from First Secretary Widby, received in the city yesterday afternoon by Mr. G. W. Harrison, announced that the convention had by a unanimous vote decided to come to Atlanta. Several of Georgia's most prominent farmers are in attendance. A large delegation from the State Agricultural Association was appointed to go, besides a number of well known farmers named by Governor Northen. Mr. W. G. Widby has been the secretary of the organization for two or three years and for three months past he has been agitating the movement to get the con gress for Atlanta. He placed the matter before the exposition directors, before Governor Northen and before a number of societies. Mr. Harrison has taken a deep interest in getting this convention to come here. Invitations were secured from more than a score of organizations throughout the state-most of them from Atlanta-and these were printed in neat pamphlet form and circulated among the delegates at the national congress this week. The strong invitation evidently made an impression on the farmers, and it was by a unanimous vote that the convention decided upon At-lanta as the next meeting place.

JACK CLANCEY'S HOTEL At Macon Is Right in It with the Traveling Public.

Traveling Public.

To mention Jack Clancey's name in connection with a hotel is a guarantee that all guests will be well treated and that all the comforts of home will be provided at his place. The entire traveling public of the south is acquainted with this genial landlord and his friends flock to him wherever he locates. He has made the new Park hotel, of Macon, a perfect little gem, and its capacity is always taxed to its utmost to accommodate the large number of daily arrivals. The Park has a most convenient location. It can be reached from either of the passenger depots by the electric car line that passes the door. The rooms and fare are all that could be desired and the two-dollars-a-day rate catches the people.

Mr. Clancey is making special arrangements to accommodate an extra large crowd during the Dixie fair, and tasze who engage rooms with him can rest assured that they will receive their money's worth.

HE FOLLOWED CUSTER

One of the Famous Indian Fighters in Atlanta Yesterday.

CROWD WAS WITH HIM

Spec'al Train of Cava'rymen Passed Through the City en Rouse to the West Yesterday Afternoon

It isn't every day one sees a soldier who fought in the command of Custer.

But such a man was in Atlanta yesterday, and it was none other than Joe Milton, the gallant soldier whose life was saved in the memorable battle of Little Big Horn, where the brave Custer and his men were massa cred, by having been sent back to the rear to do some cooking for the band of the reg-

Joe Milton is a tall fellow with bronzed face and gray mustache, large, square shoulders and tapering figure. He is still a private soldier in the service of the United States government and came through Atlanta yesterday with Troop F, of the famous Seventh regiment.

When the train on the Southern rail way from Washington pulled into the union passenger depot late in the afternoon there were sixty-five regulars aboard, all bound for the west, where they have received or ders to go. They have been at Fort Myer across the Potomac from Washington, for the past three years, and were en route to Fort Sam Houston, at San Antonio, Tex.

All of the soldiers were in service with Troop F, of the Seventh regiment, which is the same regiment with which the fa mous G. A. Custer fought. They traveled on a special train furnished by the Southern Railway Company, and had every comfort given them on the trip, having their officers' horses with them, and all their baggage and accoutrements.

Private John Milton was quietly sitting in one of the passenger cars when seen by a Constitution representative, and was musingly looking out of the window. He was alone, for all of the other soldiers had gone out of the car to stretch their limbs, walking up and down the plank road or to cross the street to the nearest barroom to get a drink.

"Yes, sir, I was a soldier in the Seventh regiment with Custer," said he to the inquiries of the reporter. "How near were you to the fighting?" was "Near as I wanted to be, the way it turned out," was the humorous reply, and the soldier laughed heartily.

"No, I was sent to the rear just in time to save my neck." continued the war-worn fellow, and he buttoned up his blue jacket tight around his body as he spoke. "I was sent back to do some cooking for the band, and in this way was saved. There was not a single soul saved out of the 261 that went down into the valley with Custer, and only one horse. The old horse was caught and kept by the command for years afterwards. He was the horse of Captain Keho, and his name was Comanche. When the old an-imal died we skinned him and adjusted the skeleton and the stuffed horse is still to be seen in the museum of the University of Kansas. He was taken to the world's fair and placed on exhibition and afterwards was carried to the university. For a long time we kept the stuffed horse in the barracks of the fort we were stationed at."

The soldier told a thrilling story as an eye-witness of the great fight that Custer made at Little Big Horn. He said there were thousands of Sloux Indians around the country, and that when they closed in upon the troops in the valley those who had been left behind knew there was but little hope of getting any of them out of the valley alive. He says it was a ghastly murder and massacre of men-nothing short of a disgraceful massacre.

ice the fight made with enth regiment of cavalry has been stationed in the west until three years ago, when they were sent to Washington, and have been there since, having but lately been or-dered back to the west.

Joe Milton is the only soldler with the command that was with Custer. He has been in the service of the United States army twenty-seven years. He is as contented today as he was the first day he entered and has never grown weary of the army. He is a plucky looking trooper, and has quite a young appearance to have had such experience in the service as he has.

Captain J. M. Bell and Lieutenants W. H. Baldwin and R. Sewell were in charge of the command passing Atlanta yesterday.

The scientists who have drawn their endorsement of the powder branded 'absolutely pure," because its formula is changed unite in commending Dr. Price's Baking Powder as the most wholesome and efficient leavening agent now before the public.

and this will be an enjoyable part of the exercises. A good orchestra for this work is being formed.

Last Sunday the large new hall was well filled with railroad men and they were all delighted with the excellent addresses and the good music. All men in connection with railroad service in any department are invited to attend tomorrow.

The railroad department extends to all railroad employes a hearty invitation to visit the rooms during the week. The building is open at 8 o'clock a. m., and until 9 p. m. The current news of the day may always be had from the papers on file. A number of the best magazines are on the tables; a convenient place for letter writing is provided and stationery and stamps are kept for the convenience of those who wish to write. Some men have an idea that the rooms are open only to members. This is a mistake. All men are made welcome whether members or not. The "latchstring" is always out and the watchword is always "welcome."
